New Salem Holds A City Election

New Salem, N. D. April 29.
Special in the Arena New Salem has finally been graduated from the berg, town, village class and has taken her position among the cities of the state, and yesterday held her last city election. The contest of an earnest and thoughtful kind, was not marked with the usual rancor and bitterness shown in newly incorporated cities. Yet with all there was a determination between two factions to see who should control the city's future as Mayor and Aldermen.

Birds as Men's Saviors.

Dr. Charles A. Beak, originator of the bird movement in the school, shows by legislative enactment, has been taken up the schools of twenty one states. It is a progressive picture of life on the earth without bird life in a recent address:

"It should be realized," he said, "that without birds to feed in check the animals, vegetable life soon would be a life for man would become impossible upon the earth. Birds are nature's amazing power of insecticide increase. If insect life were allowed to increase it would soon overcome plants and there is a small life, the killing of man, would soon be impossible. This is not a mere fancy, but it is the conclusion of science. If the birds were gone very soon the life on earth would perish from the trees and the fields would be festooned with the webbed creatures with masses of their nests. These would move from the trees, increasing to the millions, they would cover the country of a few regions there as well as the rest. In the fields other species of insects would destroy the grass and the grain and all vegetable life, and the ground would be as if a sea of disgusting growth had passed over it. There is, in most efforts, could preserve our world in this desert for a time. There would be no more birds, and it would be a desert of the earth."

Larson brothers had a thrilling experience and a narrow escape from death at their ranch south of town Thursday afternoon, while riding at high speed in their horseless carriage. Suddenly one of the wheels among the motor power of the car escaped severe injuries and the car was stopped. In the meantime, the other machine in the train added on for steering gear until the unit was stopped. The two cars no more coasting for us, even though some are attached to the "horseless" carriage.
