Dry Farming Congress:

The next International Dry Farming Congress will be held at Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 16-20. For the purpose of making an exhibit to show what this state can do under dry farming conditions and the progress that has been made, it is very desirable that exhibits should be displayed during this dry farming congress.

For the purpose of securing the best exhibit west of Missouri river in North Dakota, it is desirable that the best grain be selected and preserved. We ask the co-operation of all the farmers toward this end. Grain for exhibition purposes should be sent to any of the following:

- Martin James, Almont
- Prof. L. R. Waldron, Dickinson
- J. T. Nelson, Glen Ullin
- H. C. Jackson, Eastley
- R. H. Walker, Yucca
- N. Scott Jewett, Center
- James Hammon, Mott
- Geo. Cary, Mott
- S. W. Vandenberg, Mandan
- C. M. Wagner, Yucca
- F. E. Stoddard, Summit Lake
- W. J. Owens, Manning
- A. R. Fowth, Fisher
- Wm. H. Brown Co., Mandan or Mott

Lester Weid, Hobson
C. E. Peterson, New Salem
C. L. Tomerlin, Mandan
The gentlemen will act as collectors for such grain as is to be exhibited. It is the intention that all grain should be handsomely assembled at Dickinson, where it will be prepared for exhibition purposes. All grain collected should be properly tagged with the grower's name, location of farm and what other information you would like to show the advantage of cultivation and dry farming methods generally.

C. L. Tomerlin, President

Economies of Harvest.

It is possible for earless help to leave a considerable portion of the grain crop in the field by neglecting to gather up scatterings, loose bundles, etc., and by hauling grain on open-bottom racks. From a few pounds to a few bushels of grain may be saved every day during stacking, by using a tight-bottom rack or a canvas over the rack that will catch all of the grain that is scattered out of the heads. In season when the grain chatters hoarsely, a surprisingly large amount of grain can be saved in this way. D. Wilson, Minn. University Farm.

Butter Scores.

The scoring of the creamery butter in the dairying department of the Interstate fair has been completed. There were twenty-eight entries of creamery butter this year, twenty-one scoring 90 points or more. This year the pro-rata system has been used in all judging at the fair so that the lowest as well as the highest will participate in the money award. In the department of butter 63 cents while the highest will receive about $5.62 and the others in proportion. The scale used for scoring butter are as follows: Flavor 45, body 25, color 15, salt 10, package and packing 5. Total 100.

Raises Fine Wheat Crop.

Seventeen bushels of No. 1 hard wheat to the acre. Burleigh County farmer shows what can be done in winter wheat industry—Glencoe Farmer succeeds.

Ed. Easton brought to the city yesterday a sample of wheat which had been threshed out on his place a few days ago. It was winter wheat of the Turkey-Red variety and yielded seventeen bushel to the acre. Mr. Easton thinks there is too little attention paid to the cultivation of winter wheat in this county and state and says he believes in it for the solution of the problem of wheat raising. Mr. Easton has 300 bushels of this seed which he will sell, and it seems as though he would find a ready market for it as it is a home grown seed—Bismarck Tribune.

Rev. Hammond, of Hazleton, N. D., arrived in the city last Monday and with our pastor, has been holding meetings in the hall. Rev. Hammond is a very good speaker and our people turned out in the shape and attended all of his meetings.

North Dakota Boy.

The following poem was written by Rubie Whitney, who resides just east of this city, when he was only four years old.

I live up in North Dakota,
Where the wild flowers bloom so fair,
And you get up in the morning
And breathe the fresh Dakota air.
With the wild swans singing
In the cottonwood close by,
And I'm thinking of the summer time

That does so quickly fly,
And then there comes the boying,
'That is so quickly done,'
With the clicking of the mowers
In the hot rays of the sun,
We're glad when harrow's over,
For the needles are so bad,
To think I have to grin and bear
When I'm such a little lad.
Then as begins the harvest,
With the cutting of the wheat;
And the boys must do the shoking
While I with tired feet, Am called to bring the hunting twine

And lunch for them to eat,
They get to bring fresh water,
And without my hat I run,
Till my head is all blistered
From the burning sun,
My cheeks are blistered up you know
And look so awful bad,
But the big boys think that don't hurt,
'Cause I'm such a little lad.
(Oh) now the harvest's over,
'And a-berrying I will go,
For there's lots of plums and cherries

That fit fun to pick you know,
But then you see I rather eat
From some one else's basket,
And sort out all the biggest ones,
And fill up all my pockets.
I love to eat Dakota fruit,
The plums are large and yellow,
For they're the best kind of fruit
For such a little fellow.

The June berries is what I love best,
I eat them with such joy,
For they're the best kind of fruit
For such a little boy.
(The chorus.)
(Hurrah for North Dakota boys,
With cheeks so red and sweet;
I tell you the Dakota boys
Are awful hard to beat.
Hurrah for Dakota,
I'll do the best I can,
And stick by Dakota,
Till I'm a grown up man.

FROM MANY POINTS

EVENTS OF THE DAY HELD TO A FEW LINES.

DAYS EVENTS BOILED DOWN

Political, Political, Foreign and Other Intelligence Interesting to the General Reader.

Washington. Sharp controversy over the delay in the house investigating committee's inquiry into the "Dicks to Dix" letter, received from the committee between Chairman Graham, democratic, and Representative Burke, of South Dakota, republican.

Government finances for July, the first month of the fiscal year 1912 probably will make a much better showing than a year ago. Although the federal treasury is now running on a deficit for the month this is due to the extraordinary heavy expenditures, which always occur in the first month of a fiscal year. Of the recent $20,000,000 Panama loan less than $100,000 was uncollected, and that was promptly advanced to other lenders, who are not to be seen in the current bill.

Senator Newlands of Nevada called up his resolution outlining proposed legislation on physical education of the federal government, reform of the land law and revision downward of the iron and steel tariff. He asked the speaker to refer the resolution to the committee on the 15th of August. No action was taken. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, probably will attend the state fair in Almont next September and deliver an address on that occasion. An invitation from the state fair management was personally delivered to the veteran member of the cabinet by Senator Brown, and the secretary assumed the honor that he would be very glad to accept the invitation if his exact month of the year.

Victor Berger, the socialist congressman from Wisconsin, said his first visit to the white house, he asked the president to sign the Texas wool. Dewey, former of Iowa, made a speech for the wool bill. Mr. Berger asked the president to take some action toward allowing letter carriers in various cities to perform their duties during the hot summer days in their shirt sleeves. The president, Mr. Berger said, promised to act.

General. The situation in Mexico is becoming the more bleak. Congressman Norris has definitely announced his candidacy for the senate.

The department of justice is to issue the anti-trust decree to its limit. The Missouri question is languishing with prospects of compromise.

There is a bad party split in Alabama. Democratic senators held a conference in reference to taking up the wool bill.

A democratic house caucus voted against the cotton revenue bill reducing duties.

The passage of the revenue bill leaves the republican side in a tight condition.

Senator La Follette charged conspiracy to defeat all real tariff legislation.

A democratic coalition in the senate forced the La Follette compromise wool bill.

The International Harvester company was described as a part of the tariff of great trust.

Over two millions of dollars are charged against the people of Nebraska in back taxes.

Senator Jones of Iowa took steps to have his withdrawal bill brought to a vote on the senate.

John D. Rockefeller is not ill, as rumored in some parts of the country, but it is splendid health.

Victor Berger, socialist, withdrew his support of the tariff bill.

The United States is declared to be imposed upon by Germany in the cotton and commercial agreement.

Mrs. Melba Hilday, widow of former Congressman Joseph C. Hilday, died at her home in Franklin, Pa., after a long illness.

The alleged alienation of the Republic of Cuba against American Jews was considered by the senate committee on foreign relations.

John D. Rockefeller is not ill, as rumored in some parts of the country, but it is splendid health.

CRISIS REACHED

THAT AMERICAN CRISIS IS REACHED IN OPINION OF ENGLISH PUBLIC.

GERMANY'S BLUFF CALLED

BRITISHERS THINK IT WORTH TRYING TO COME TO IT. THAT IT SHOULD COME NOW. THAT IS THE OPINION.

London, July 31.—The American crisis is practically ended. At least this is the opinion of the English public, although the foreign office is careful to point out that the situation is not simple and may drag on for months.

While greatly relieved at the improvement in the situation even some minded Britishers in discussing the German bluff are generally of the opinion that it was worth trying to come at all if it would come now. Then for when the German bluff would be strengthened and also the bluff would be better than a bluff with Germany over Morocco or some question in which France is directly interested than on a question in which England and Germany only are concerned.

In the former England would be saved of the assistance of France while in the latter France might, with or without, offer sympathy but stand aside when it came to a fight.

Germany, according to the English view, has made a bluff which is better than a bluff and she is now prepared to withdraw.

Undecided on West Tariff.

Washington, July 31.—Democratic leaders of the house adopted anything but a conciliatory tone on the wool tariff situation. Chairman Underwood declared that the tariff is a question of principle and means compromise. He expressed the opinion that the tariff is a question of principle and means compromise.

Government Will Appeal.

Washington, July 31.—The government will appeal to the supreme court to annul the tariff law which was declared in favor of the railroad by the United States circuit court at St. Louis.

Opposition to the wool bill.

Washington, July 31.—The wool bill has a year in which to perfect its action in the senate. The department of justice has refused to appeal the tariff law.

Canadian Parliament Dissolved.

Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—The eleventh session of Canada has passed out of existence and upon the political horizon looms the prospect of a general election.

Can't Send Harvart's Press.

St. Paul, July 31.—The hundreds of unemployed persons in the city are free to go to the city of St. Paul, Minn., where they are making arrangements to send to the largest city of the northwest will have to stay here.

Deadlock in Europe.

Paris, July 27.—The deadlock between France and Germany continues. The French government is determined to stand by its position.

PLANNING A MODEL POSTOFFICE

THE POST OFFICE has a scheme for improving its most numerous "branch offices"—the post offices located in all sections of our broad land. The improvement that is contemplated is not designed to change the outward appearance of our mail stations, although in some cases it would be an advantage if the local post office could be "spruced up" somewhat in exterior appearance. The main project now on foot deals rather with the inside of the post office as an institution and not even here does it concern itself with appearance. The aim and purpose of the movement is to promote the efficiency of the average post office and this is to be done by giving the postmaster new and improved devices for handling the mail more quickly, more accurately and more economically than has been possible with the methods and equipment in vogue three years ago.

The government's biggest business institution, as the United States post office department may fittingly be designated, is not going to attempt to revolutionize things in all parts of the country at once. That would be altogether too much of an undertaking from the standpoint of physical and financial resources even were it not for the fact that it would require so much money that congress would stand aghast. So the new order of things is to be inaugurated gradually so are most such enterprises and a beginning is to be made in the post office of the big cities where the problems of handling a huge and constantly growing volume of mail have been growing more perplexing year by year. The government's experience here has been gained from the experiments in these big post offices. It is felt that it will be a comparatively simple matter to transfer the post office of the smaller cities and towns and to duplicate just what town and labor-saving devices will be best suited to the needs of

Excellent Type of Beef Animal

PROGRESS WITH BEEF

One of the most profitable lines of stock raising is beef production. Much depends upon type and quality of animals used, as scrub will consume as much feed as pure bred and sell for less.

By W. C. PALMER, Agricultural Editor, North Dakota Agricultural College.

Beef production is one of the profitable lines of stock raising and it includes the features that make fattening unprofitable with a heavy milking.

Such of the success in beef production will depend on the type and quality of the stock used. In the illustration is shown a good type of the beef animal. Unlike the smooth-bodied beef breeders, good covering of fat, which is the basis of tender meat. The scrub steer and the dairy type steer does not produce meat blended with fat, but puts the meat and the fat by themselves and

GOOD CROP BY DRY FARMING

Prof. Thomas Shaw makes interesting and instructive talk on conservation of moisture.

Prof. Thomas Shaw who gave an interesting and instructive talk on dry farming at the Mutual Farmers' Association last evening of the 24th of September in Montana the past season. It was very dry there so the results that he got are significant. He told us that if the hay had been cut in 1910 and 1911 that the crop in 1910 would have been at least twice what it was. From the 1910 report that I have had I am sure that it is possible to grow a good crop in North Dakota every year if the moisture is saved. The best way to do this is by dry farming. Or the farmer that had charge of last summer's result was very successful in saving the land the next year. The first preparation the year before. MAIL CARRIER'S ROUTE

The distinctive features of the model post office which must consequently will mark its superiority to any other of the old type offices will be found in the extensive employment of mechanical and automatic devices and conveniences of different types for moving the letters and parcels from point to point in their transit through the post office. Indeed no complete will be the form of mechanical devices that it will be more necessary for a human hand to touch a letter from the entrance it is placed in the letter drop to the entrance of the machine. A Home for the President Minnesota Offers Site on Shore of Lake Minnetonka for Permanent Summer Capital.

The Fargo Search Light has just about the idea straight. At the head of its editorial column appears the following: For President in 1912, Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin; For Governor, Usher L.
Burdick, of Williston. Now these two men are the very best timber that can be found for the respective offices and if all the people will only study these candidates we will not be compelled to go through the ardor of another administration like the one we are now going through. Pass the good word along.

Farmers are beginning to realize that eighty and one hundred and sixty acre farms should be more numerous and that big farms should be less numerous. This is a lesson that should have been learned long ago to the advantage of the state and the farmers themselves. Practical farming is the only kind of farming that pays in the long run and big farming is seldom ever practical farming.
This fact is beginning to be admitted. To be practical farmer needs eternal vigilance and constant study and care the same as any other pursuit, calling for perfection.

The whole North Dakota delegation, Senators Grunum and Mc-Cumber, and Representatives Helge-son and Hanna worked faithfully against the Canadian reciprocity pact because of its unfairness and discrimination against the farmers.
Their speeches were some of the most able made in the House and Senate against the pact, and very fairly illustrated the unfairness of the proposed agreement. Each of the four are entitled in this to a full measure of credit equal to that of the other three. North Dakota was ably represented in this matter and the Senators and Congressmen very ably represented the sentiment and desires of their constituents.
Give them credit.

North Dakota will be the first state to fire a gun in the political campaign of 1912 so far as president is concerned. The last session of the legislature passed a law which provides for an election to be held next March in which the people declare their preference for president, party preference and also elect delegates to the national convention. This is a pretty good law and will give the people a chance to express their preference not only for a presidential candidate for their own party but will give them a chance to elect a national conventionman without having these two preferences for them by a lot of politicians who trust somebody upon you without giving you a chance to express opinion on the matter. The eyes of the nation will be turned on North Dakota first at fight.

ALMONT NEWS NOTES

Gleaned from Here, There and Everywhere.
By the Arena Gate-keeper.

F. T. Halvorson was down from Hebron on last Sunday.

Mr. Bakken of Minneapolis was in this place Wednesday of this week.

Notice the treasurer's report of the Peland school district in this issue of the Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Knutson left on Thursday for a short trip to Mandan and Bismarck.

Harry V. Ellis, traveling peddler for the Royal Typewriter Co., was in town last Thursday.

G. H. Auderson left on Friday for a short visit at Mandan and Bismarck, on a business mission.

John Timmerman left on Wednesday of this week for Fargo where he expects to attend school for some time.

N. P. Nelson and G. H. Auderson drove to Lark the first of the week. They report the crops as looking fine all along the way.

N. E. Becklund, cashier of the Farmers State Bank, was a business visitor at Mandan and Bismarck the forepart of this week.

This has certainly been a week of rain and the showers have been frequent. But then it was just what was needed so who cares.

F. X. Dempsey and wife were in from Dogtooth, on Tuesday of this week. They were surprised to see how prosperous Almont country looked.

Rev. Graham, of Guyther, N. D., arrived in town Thursday morning and assisted with the meetings being held here this week.

Mr. Litzenberg, representing the Simmons Hardware Co., of Minneapolis was in this city Wednesday calling on the local merchants.

Ray Heaton, of St. Paul, arrived in this city the first of the week with a party of land seeker who will look over the country south of the river with a view of investing.

Chas. W. Weekes proved up on his quarter, southeast of town before Commissioner G. H. Auderson on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Weekes states that the crops look fine in his neighborhood.

John Hansen and family left the first of the week for points in Canada. Mr. Hansen has just proved up on his quarter south of town and now he will look over King George's dominion in search of a good half section.

The Almont country was visited by two of those million dollar rains during the past week which has helped the late wheat and all of the flax and corn considerable. These were genuine soakers and just what the country needed.

Frank Hurley closed up his restaurant the forepart of the week. His stove blew up and did not feel like going to the expense of putting in a new one. He has not decided as yet, just what he will do. Frank ran a nice place and we all regret to see him close it up.

Rev. V. V. Alexandroff, Rector of the Russian Orthodox Church of Chicago, Illinois was in Almont a couple of days looking over a tract of land this side of Heart River, with G. H. Auderson. Rev. Alexandroff is at the head of one of the largest churches in the world, having twenty thousand members. He was well pleased with the land that he saw and it is likely that he will purchase a tract of nine thousand acres and colonize it with members of his church. Should the deal go it will mean much for Almont country, as the parties who would then come into consideration the land would be successful farmers.

Mr. A. M. Solinsson of the Heart River country was a caller in the city Friday.

The Treasurer's report of the Sims school district appears in this issue of the Arena.

Rickert Olson is having a new barn built on his place to replace the one that was destroyed by fire a short time ago. The new one is to be 60x60, and N. S. Becklund has the contract to put it up.

A good joke on our local minister and Rev. Hammond happened on yesterday morning. They were out by the creek and a farmer came along and taking them for 'Weary Willies' he asked them if they didn't want a job, but they declined.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Bird are the proud parents of an eleven pound baby boy born to them on last Saturday morning. Mr. Bird wears a happy smile and was passing around the cigars the first of the week. Mother and child are both doing well.

Mrs. Margomt Hatchius, who resides two miles south of this city was a caller at this office Wednesday afternoon and had her name placed on the subscription list and also desired us to say a word or two in praise of Dentist Hibbs at Bismarck, where she had just been to have 12 teeth extracted. She went down on Tuesday morning and returned Wednesday afternoon and stated that she had the teeth removed without taking any anesthetic whatever. She stated that there was no pain attached to it at all and that during her life she had a number of teeth removed but had to stand considerably in pain but this time it was free from all pain and that this was the only time that she was ever entirely satisfied with the work. She was highly elated over the outcome and the good work that was done. She stated that according to her estimation Dentist Hibbs is the only real good dentist that she has ever come across and that his work is first-class.

Automobilist, Blayer of Pat Dog, Gets Hot Shot From the Irate Owner.

Joseph P. Rhyer, while impersonating Hooker T. Washington at the Westminster Club, began his annual "grit" dinner, told a humorous "experience" while "automobile riding," which, he said, illustrated the sarcasm which a woman is capable of when occasion demands.

"We were going along at an awful pace, telling us in so uncertain terms what she thought of us and emphasizing to general, smiling up by getting on the shoulders of her dog it was then that I thought I would partly her.

"Hooker," I said, "I will replace your dog."

"Sir," she said, "in a fleeting time of years, my father yours!"—Miss

AS IT WORKS IN REAL LIFE

Usual Experience of Man Who Starts Out to "Show" the Folks Back Home.

In the American Magazine Eugene Wood writes on "Hunting a Job in the Wicked City." "It is extraordinary in its observation and humor. Many of us have been through what he describes. Following is an extract:—
"You pack your trunk and start for the Wicked City. There are plenty of jobs there. True, there are lots of people looking for work too. But then, genuine merit is bound to be seen, and that's the thing you've got the sort with the yellow label on it and genuine blots in the bottle. You'll work like the very diabolical; and save up your money, and get rich, and then you'll come back and show 'em. You'll just show 'em."

"You'll just show 'em. Yes, you will. You can't show 'em in Johannesburg, Durban, or some day when you've got so many millions of dollars you don't know how many you have got and your name is in the papers as often as Chamberlain's. Devereux used to be, you go back home on a visit and, one day, just for a cod, you stop and see the man that fired you. First thing he'll say is, 'Working today?' and when you convince him that you aren't peddling anything, and tell him your name, he'll say, oh, yes, he remembers you and come to find out, he'll tell you but your cousin he remembers. And after you tell him with much detail what house you used to live in, and your mother's complexion and all, he says: 'Oh, yes. Why, certainly, I know you like a book. Well, how's things with you? Who you workin' for these days?' You'll show 'em."

MOSS TO RECLAIM CONTINENT

Apparently Trivial Object That is Liable to Change the Face of the Earth.

Agencies apparently so trivial as to be almost beneath notice have changed and are now changing the face of the earth. For instance, so compactly insignificant a form of vegetation as moss may not only affect the aspect of the landscape, but may powerfully assist in giving a new character to a continent.

One of the surprising results of scientific investigation in Greenland is the indication of the wonderful work mosses are performing there. Where glaciers have passed to advance, or have become "dead," various species of mosses have found a foothold on them, and gradually over spread them with a mantle of green. The amount of vegetable matter slowly deposited by these Greenland mosses is so considerable that it has been suggested that this deposit will be of great importance in the future of that strange land.

It is known that in a past geological age Greenland was not the dreary, ice-sheeted continent that it is today, but a beautiful land, almost tropical in appearance in some respects. And if, in the future, geological or astronomical causes should bring about a return to the former conditions, when Greenland was really "green," the rich stores of vegetable matter now accumulating there through the growth of mosses and the ice will give birth to a wealth to the soil of the regenerated continent.—Harper's Weekly.

Danger in Back Collar Button.

A British scientist has just been pointing out the dangers of the high collar in connection with a lost back collar button, which, through weight of the clothing on the back of the neck, may be leaving the imprint deep in the back of your neck.

In the first place the tall, stiff collar, which almost universally is too tight, cuts off a certain amount of blood from the brain. Many persons who are brain workers will recall the disposition to loosen the neckband, before settling down to some hard study. It is an indication of an interrupted blood supply to the brain cells. Worse than this, however, the scientist is telling us that this long, shanked back collar button, under pressure of the tight collar or from weight of clothing around the neck, may be exerting dangerous force upon one of the most sensitive portions of the spinal cord. The medulla of the spinal cord is secondary only to the brain itself. Injury to it may paralyze the nerve centers which control the breathing apparatus.

Fight for Women's Rights.

The Era club of New Orleans has decided that if women are not admitted to the medical school of Tulane university for an uninterrupted four years course the club will defray all legal expense incurred by the women in question sued on by the courts. It required several years hard work for the Era club to get the doors of the medical school of Tulane opened for women students, with the result that the first two years are now open to them.

"Yes, all but Fanny, the eldest. She is waiting a little longer."—Flegenda Biaritter.

We will sell you land cheaper than you can rent. If you are ambitious and willing to work the land we will sell you a good quarter on crop payments. You get one half of the crop and the other half you apply on the purchase price of the land. It's just like renting land excepting that when you have raised so much grain you get a Warranty Deed to the land and it is yours while you rent you rent you get nothing but a receipt and a chance to move to another rented place. If we did not have farms in our land we could not and would not sell it in this way. Write to us for further particulars.
