SIMS SIMMER

Mr. Jack Lane of this place visited with relatives at Swift Bridge last Sunday.

Miss Annie Larson went to Mandan last Wednesday to visit with relatives for a few days.

Miss Esther Linstad who is teaching school at Curlew, spent Sunday with her folks in our town.

Miss Anna Jacobson left last Saturday for Dickinson where she will visit a few days with friends.

J. E. Olin who has been cripped up for some time with a sprained ankle is able to get about with the assistance of a cane.

The Annual Fancy Work sale held by the Sims Embroidery Club last Saturday proved a success financially and otherwise.

Oscar Jacobson, Martin Willman, Theo Peterson and P. R.
Peterson accompanied Nels Willman as far as New Salem last Sunday.

We understand Miss Anna Olin has gone to Leipzig to wield the rod in the school room and impart wisdom to young America at that place.

Miss Inga, Ins at present, is introducing knowledge into the young minds in the Rammason School District spent last Sunday at home.

The water tank and depot tank just received a new coat of paint and they look young again.
Wonderful what difference a little paint will do anyway, no matter where applied.

Miss Anna Minton came down from Glendive last Monday on No.
8 to visit with her sister, Miss Mary. She was accompanied by Miss Heien Terinski, also of Glen-dive. They returned on No. 3 the same evening.

Late reports from Hinckley state that the Pederson successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis and is getting along as well as could be expected for a man of his age. We hope his recovery will be speedy and permanent.

The following stock shipments were made out of here last Saturday: Ric Olson one car, J. E. Olin one car, Joe Pederson two cars, and Theo Larson one car. We understand Ric Olson bought Mr.
here.

Nels Willman left last Sunday for Alberta Canada. Nels has been here only about two years but during his comparatively short time has made fast friends with all who knew him. It is a different matter to find a boy of his age so trustworthy, upright and honest and the community loses one of its best young men. Though we are all sorry to see him go, we wish him the best of success and hope some day to have him come back and make his home. In Canada he will join his father who went there from here last spring.

Proposals for Deposit of School Funds.

Sealed bids from Banks of Morton County will be received up to October 28th 1911, by the District clerk of Sims School District No. 8 in order to designate a School District Depository for said school district. Such bids will state rate of interest to be paid monthly on disbursement that all funds with accrued interest shall be held subject to draft at all times on demand.

The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Direct to Sims October 28th 1911
In order of the Board,
P. R. Peterson,
District Clerk

LARK SIZERS

TOO LATE FOR LAST WEEK.

Claud Hyland the 'livery man, 'hustling hustler' is reported on the sick list.

The grain is still coming in a steady stream and keeps the elevators for pretty busy.

Chas Lundberg was in town Friday when he left he took with him a new milky plow.

Flasher's enterprising merchant,
Mr. Betler autoed through here making a short stop, to note the progress of the town.

Mr. Hurley of Almont paid us a flying visit this week accompanied by a friend on a flying trip.
Come again Mr. Hurley.

Lark is getting more like a city all the time as there were six special trains through here this week looking somewhat like the main line.

The Chase Lumber Co got a car of hard coal yesterday which has been long looked for two weeks past. As last it is here, as is also a car of lignite.

We had a terrific wind storm here this week, in which the lumber yard suffered severely, the big gates being blown off the hinges and the south fence blowing down and every outhouse in town blown over. We don't wait another like it for sometime.

We had a rather enterprising time last night in the shape of a dance, the crowd, though small, was full of good humor and we all had a pleasant evening. Mr.
Edwin Ingersoll acted as master of ceremonies and Brother Savage did the fiddling, assisted by two or three of the boys with a harmonium. We all say, "have another soon."

We had quite a little excitement here today, Saturday. There were some cattle buyers going through the country all week buying up cattle and they loaded them from the loading platform. They were a fine bunch of cattle and were all loaded except one steer calf which was purchased by Levy the local restaurant man, insuring a week's fresh meat supply. They go to Chicago.

Patronize the Creamery.

At a stockholder's meeting of the Almont Creamery Association held on last Saturday afternoon, it was decided to keep the local creamery open for this month and if given proper support to keep it open all winter and pay cash for cream.

It is too bad that some of our farmers continue to send cream to St. Paul and Minneapolis and not try to help the local creamery, but by patronizing it with what little cream they have to sell. You might possibly get a cent or two more for your cream down there but after our local creamery has closed those fellows will give you just what they desire and you can depend upon it that it will not be even a fair market price.

The farmers around Almont should be far sighted enough to see just how this will pan out in the end and we are sure that the creamery will do right by you all if you will only give them a fair trial. Now men look at this proposition in the right way and hereafter save yourselves considerable trouble by patronizing the home institutions and not try and drive them out only to get the 'dirty' end from the same whole sale house after you are compelled to buy the cream.

SHORT CUT TO REC PROOF.

Grain Smuggling Conspiracy Unearthed on Border.

Almont - A habit of grain smuggling has been unmasked by United States customs officers and two arrests have been made at Norma. Walter Jackson, a wheat buyer for the Atlantic Grain Company, and A. J. Hagan, a farmer, are under arrest as the result of the work of George W. Paulsen of St. Paul, agent in charge of the customs agents in the north-west. The men are charged with conspiring to smuggle grain into the United States from Canada. Confessions from a dozen men have been obtained from the men under arrest has.

The men were found near the federal grand jury and both furnished "finger prints" for the "finger prints" of the Canadian police, the disappearance of which has aroused police officials near the entire world, was directly responsible for the arrests made at Norma. The St. Paul office and associates had been along the frontier of North Dakota waiting for the waiting.

The chain system of grain smuggling has been carried on for over a year. It is one that involves both Canadian and American farmers. The Canadian farmer brought his grain across the border line at night to an American farmer and later the American farmer brought it to market. In this manner smuggling was not exposed and the tracks were well covered. In smuggling barley across the line there is a gain of 10 cents a bushel to the producer; the difference in price between American and Canadian markets.

Splendidness.

Dad Wilton - They say Sattie and Fred's wedding will outdo all records for splendidness.
Daughter - You bet it will. We're going to eat that stranger from the hotel 'twear his dress suit 'n' all the crowd.

ALMONT NEWS NOTES

Gleaned from Here, There and Everywhere.
By the Arena Gate-keeper.

We are printers, others only imitators.

For Sale:—A good cart for sale. Inquire at this office.

The Silents Brothers, of Noel, were visitors in Almont on Tuesday.

W. D. Wagoner and his estimate wife were shopping in this city last Saturday.

P. R. Peterson, of Sims, was a visitor in the city on Monday attending to business matters.

For Sale or Trade:—A $475.00 Cable piano. Will trade for a 3 or 4 year old mare. Inquire at this office.

J. H. Luneman was showing his fine land south of town to a party of land-seekers on Tuesday of this week.

G. H. Anderson, Lawrence Nelson and the Misses Amanda Nelson and Grace Jacobson motored down to New Salem Tuesday returning the same afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Lindner and Mrs. Wilhoag and children left today for Carrington. Mr. Lindner will go through to Ambrose where he will look after their tax case.

J. W. Hurley purchased a new Evered touring car and on Saturday morning it was undoubtedly tried out. It looks to be a gem and is a handy car and Mr. Hurley will now be seen speeding around at a lively clip.

Mrs. J. J. Walton and two sons, Francis and Eric, of Carrington, arrived in the city Saturday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Ray L. Lindner. Mrs. Lindner will accompany her to Carrington today for a few days visit.

E. Duke Naven, of Waterloo Iowa, arrived in the city Thursday evening and spent a few days looking over his land near Almont. While here he disposed of a few choice quarters. He returned to his home on Saturday afternoon.

Hans Anderson will hold an auction sale at his farm on Wednesday, October 25. The Almont printed him some bills and Mr. Anderson stated that they would not be lost. They were in two colors and something new in these parts.

E. Duke Naven, of Waterloo Iowa, was in town a couple of days last week looking over his land and interests in this place. Mr. Naven is at present promoting a fruit land proposition in Hay Lake, Alabama, and is meeting with success.

Many of the Carson farmers have been looking over in to Almont during the past few weeks. We understand that there was some trouble between the elevation at that place and the farmers, and when Almont pays the highest prices for grain and gives the farmers a "square deal" all the time.

There will be no services on next Sunday as Rev. Alexander will attend a meeting at James town on that date. But after that date he has prepared to hold services at Almont on next Sunday. Rev. Alexander is a fine speaker and one cannot but be in getting him to hold meetings here ever Sunday.

A meeting was held Wednesday night at the E. E. Sturges home to decide on a plan and means to furnish the local children with new song books and supplies of the kind. The ladies talked it over and about until the sun was in the gutter and then they adjourned. It is thought that they will collect for us

Pay your subscription today. I. H. Luneman was a visitor in the city Wednesday.

Dressmaking done at Mrs. Luzon's millinery store.

For Sale:—Good cow and a spring heifer calf. For further particulars call at this office.

Bring in your job work and get a satisfactory job for a change. We are artists in the printing business.

Mrs. Rolph was in Almont on Tuesday. Mrs. Rolph has a fine quarter down by the Heart River which she is proving up.

G. H. Anderson, E. E. Templeton and E. Duke Naven were at Carson Saturday where the sold Tom Melbourn a quarter of land.

P. T. Halverson came up from Flasher Thursday evening and on Monday he leaves for Canada to take up residence on his homestead.

Roy Davernott, of Egan, arrived in town Wednesday to look after interests here. He left on Friday by way of Mandan for his home.

Best day was a letter a load of coal. Miscellaneous and contained for the sale of some potatoes. Buy for about the first of the season.

Mrs. Luzon Almont, N. Dak.

S. S. Templeton of Carson spent a couple of days in town this week.

We were compelled to leave part of our correspondence on this as we were in a hurry to get out early on account of being called away, but next week it will all appear.

SEN. GROOHA FOR LA FOLLETTE. N. D. Congressman Lauds Wisconsin Man in Duluth interview.

Duluth, Minn. (La Follette will be the next president) said United States Senator A. T. Grooha of North Dakota here.

The people of this state and of Iowa want La Follette as they realize that the only man at the Republic party today who can carry the election is the one who has a tangible plan for the redemption of this country. He is the only man who has a plan for the redemption of this country.

ABLE J. GROOHA

This bill were killed here all along in Iowa. While the people of the Iowa may favor La Follette, it is doubtful that the large majority of the voters, the farmers and best men for La Follette. He is a wonderful man. He holds his convictions, and an honest on earth man never lives. I am fresh from the farm and have not had much time to study political matters, but you can believe me when I say a wave of enthusiasm is coming to sweep over the country and in the end will be elected.

FORMODEL FARMS
 $100,000 FUND RAISED FOR AGRICULTURAL IMPROVEMENT.
WILL START NEXT SEASON

Plan Will be Designed to Benefit Holders of Small Acres by Teaching Up-to-date Farming Methods.

With the most influential men in North Dakota back of it, assurance that $100,000 or more if necessary will be raised to put it through, the most comprehensive plan for practical agricultural improvement work ever undertaken by any state in the union will be started at once in North Dakota, and when the next crop season opens on there will be hundreds of practical demonstration farms of five to ten acres scattered over the state. H. Y. Barles, of Hillsboro, E. J. Webster, Fargo, C. B. McMillan, Hammar, C. W. Kelly, Devils Lake, C. E. Timmerman, Mandan, J. E. Pheasant, Bowman, P. Hartelson, Kenmare, H. O. McClintock, Oakes, F. W. Cathro, Dickinson, E. C. Kittel, Casselton, B. Adams, Lisbon, J. J. Nerling, Jamestown, and J. Austen Regan, Passadena, are some of the North Dakota men back of the move. They are the men who were named as the first board of directors of the newly formed North Dakota One Hundred Dollar an Acre association and the announcement of the plan for the establishment of the practical demonstration farms is the first indication of the lines along which intend to work for the betterment of farm conditions and the increase of the productive powers of the state.

The plan is based upon the idea that good farming education is best by telling the farmer to read a book, that it cannot be taught by sending him pamphlets through the mails and that the way to do it is to go right to the farmer and demonstrate to him that good farming brings its returns many fold. No such plan, on so large a scale, ever was worked out for reaching the farmer. The landmark plan, which is a model that other countries interested in agricultural improvement work have followed, and which the state of Illinois took up, will be established in North Dakota and 500 of the five and ten-acre farms will be established.

The big farmer will be left out of it when it comes to locating the farms. The man with 5,000 acres, who is still to be found in North Dakota, but whose large holding becomes more and more conspicuous by contrast with the breaking-up process follows agricultural diversification, will be left alone. Only the men who does his own plowing will be included in the demonstration farm placements.

Plowing, harrowing and moisture conservation will be shown on these demonstration farms, and rotation of crops will be a part of the educational plan. For the North Dakota men who are back of the plan are going to finance it for three years and there will be a chance, even in that time, to show the farmer how he can better himself and save his soil infection or exhaustion by proper rotation.

E. J. Weber, of Fargo, who was in Minneapolis this week with an exhibit of corn, believes that the productive possibilities of the state can be increased immensely, even next year, by good farming.

"The season of 1910 taught us that," said Mr. Weber. "In many cases there were patches that stood up well and others that deteriorated, where the effects of better or more indifferent farm work could be seen. We learned something."

To find a sufficient number of agricultural experts to carry on the work and a man to direct the whole will be the duty of the $100 an acre association, for it has been decided that the money will be handled by the treasurer of that organization. When a farm has been located, the work of cultivating it will go on under good farming methods, and the crops that will grow upon it will come side by side with those that the farmer will grow on his regularly cultivated land. High differences as will appear at the season's close and such advantages as the good farming method may be able to show, will be traceable in every instance back to work that was done right where the farmer could see it and that the farmer will be quick to take advantage of such a practical demonstration the men back of the movement do not doubt.

The demonstration will not stop at grain or the root crops. There will be practical showings in livestock feeding and raising and in North Dakota, with increasing wealth, is developing the dairy industry very rapidly, that increase is one of the most important changes under way; the cow will be studied as a source of wealth and the farmer shown the things that good farming teaches.

4,000 SHEEP IMPORTED.
 New Brand of Industry for Towner County Farmers.

Changed farming conditions will prevail on at least a few of the large Towner county farms next year as a result of the fact that over 4,000 ewes have been imported from Montana. Many sheep are also being grazed here for the Montana owners, some have been for a period of about two months and will be then shipped to Chicago.

We will sell you land cheaper than you can rent. If you are ambitious and willing to work the land we will sell you a good quarter on crop payments. You get one half of the crop and the other half you apply on the purchase price of the land. It's just like renting land excepting that when you have raised so much grain you get a Warranty Deed to the land and it's yours while if you rent you rent you get nothing but a receipt and a chance to move to another rented place. If we didn't have faith in our land we couldn't and wouldn't sell it in this way. Write to us for further particulars.
