HADLEY IS FOR TAFT
 Roosevelt's Former Manager Comes Out Squarely for the President.

Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, who was one of Roosevelt's managers at the Republican national convention, and who had charge of the contest made by Roosevelt delegates, has declined to follow the Third Term candidate out of the Republican party, and has declared that he will support President Taft. In a speech at Jefferson City, Mo., he said:

"I hope that these many high-minded but, I believe, mistaken men, who have thought there was a greater interest to be subserved by joining in the organization of a new party and the occasion of another state ticket, will yet see that by such acts they are simply doing that which tends to insure Democratic success. And I hope that they will come back to the party which has stood for honor, that has stood for sane and effective progress in the conduct of public affairs."

After appealing to Republicans to support the Republican nominee, Gov. Hadley pointed out in his speech that the Democrats were pledged in the same kind of tariff legislation as they gave to the country after the Democratic victory of 1892. He said that no Republican could associate himself with those whose efforts tended to insure Democratic success.

MUST VOTE FOR TAFT
 Roosevelt, Who Cannot Be Elected, Says That Wilson's Election Means Nation-Wide Disaster.

Col. Roosevelt, the Third Term candidate, cannot possibly be elected. There is no way in which he can carry enough states to give him 268 electoral votes.

But by dividing the Republican party, Col. Roosevelt can aid in electing Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic candidate. Should Wilson be elected, Roosevelt says that Wilson's election would plunge this country into nationwide disaster. Here are Roosevelt's own words, written in the Outlook of July 27, 1912:

"If Dr. Wilson were elected, he would either have to repudiate the promises made about the tariff in the Democratic platform of one brief every industry in the country; or a 'break' which would make all panic in our past history seem like a child's play in comparison. In short, were Dr. Wilson elected on this platform he would be obliged at the very outset of his administration to face the alternatives of dishonesty or disaster, the alternatives of refusing to carry out the sacred pledges of the platform, or of causing such disaster to every worker in the country as would mean nationwide ruin."

As Roosevelt cannot be elected, and as Roosevelt says that Wilson's election would mean disaster, it is a logical conclusion that the vote of the country must be given to President Taft.

FORAKER SUPPORTS TAFT
 Says All Other Candidates Seek to Destroy Republican Party.

By his physician's orders, former Senator Foraker has been compelled to decline the invitation to make speeches in the campaign of course as a loyal Republican, he is supporting Taft. For quite a while the former senator was in Maine for his health, and while there he was a keen observer of the political situation. He declares that the result in Maine was emphatically a victory for the policy of protection. Upon his return home he gave a highly interesting address to the Cincinnati "Commercial Tribune," from which the following is excerpted:

"It is the duty of every Republican who wants to support the Republican party and Republican principles to remember that there is no way to support the party and its principles except by supporting President Taft."

"Nobody else pretends to represent the Republican party. Every other candidate for the presidency is the open and avowed enemy of the Republican party. All alike are seeking its defeat and destruction."

TALKING ABOUT STRAW.

The Billings (Mont.) Daily Gazette, which has been a strong Roosevelt supporter since Roosevelt's campaign for Taft, the editor writes in a special article, the change in a double column article, declaring that he sees no hope for the success of the Third Term party, and is convinced that the cause of real reform can be best promoted by supporting the Republican party in power. The article is a very interesting one, and is a valuable contribution to the discussion of the present business conditions, and the changes in legislation and politics that are being demanded by the business world under Republican rule. The most significant editorial in the Gazette is the one on the importance of the tariff. It is a very important one, and is a valuable contribution to the discussion of the present business conditions, and the changes in legislation and politics that are being demanded by the business world under Republican rule.

A White for a Time.
A Cleveland school teacher writes that she asked her pupils what was the difference between the expressions, "a while," and "a time." Says the Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Nobody seemed to have any ideas on the subject. Finally the light of intelligence was seen to shine in the eyes of one little boy, and the teacher called upon him to save the intellectual honor of the class."
"I know, teacher," he cried eagerly. "When papa says 'a while' he means for a while, mamma says she knows he's going out for a time!"
That's one way of looking at it.

Wise Young Man.
That was a very wise Cambridge student of whom the London story tellers were talking some time ago. One of his college friends finding himself without funds, went to this student of students to borrow. He found him in bed. Biting him by the shoulder, he shook him.
"Why do you ask?" queried the other, sleepily.
"I want to borrow a sovereign."
"Yes," said the other, turning over and closing his eyes. "I'm asleep."
Every time you tell your troubles you are wasting the other fellow's time.

ROOSEVELT IS SHOT IN BREAST

A MILWAUKEE

A SCALDING REVOLVER IS USED—BELIEVED WOUND IS NOT SERIOUS.

WOUND IS NOT SERIOUS.

Colonel Paretske in Going to the Auditorium to Speak After the Accident—Growth is Quoted.

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was shot and seriously wounded as he was leaving the Olin Patrick hotel for the Auditorium to make a speech.

The wound was regarded as superficial and the colonel went on to the hall and began his speech after he had soon the assassin arrested and taken to the police station.

Henry F. Cochems seized the would-be assassin and held him until police men came up. Each surge around the man, who apparently is a radical on the subject of Roosevelt's running for another term as president, but the police succeeded in landing him safely in the central station.

The assassin, who is small of stature, admitted firing the shot and said that "any man looking for a third term ought to be shot."

In notes found in the man's pockets at the police station, were statements that the man had been visited by a man named "Bill" who had indicated Colonel Roosevelt, "this is my ruler, ruler, ruler, ruler."

Roosevelt felt no pain. The colonel felt no pain at the time the shot was fired and was not aware that he was shot until he was on the way to the Auditorium. His attention was attracted to a hole in his overcoat, and he found that his shirt was soaked with blood. He insisted that he was not hurt badly. A superficial examination of the wound was made when he reached the Auditorium, and three physicians agreed that he was in no immediate danger.

The wound was treated after an hour's examination that he was John Schrank of 210 East Tenth st., N. Y. Col. Roosevelt's wound was saved by a manufacturer of the speech which he delivered. The bullet struck the manufacturer which made it so easy as it passed through into the hall.

The assassin was prevented from going to the Auditorium by Albert H. Martin, chief of police, who was the secretary of the Olin Patrick hotel. Martin, who was standing in the car with the colonel, leaped onto the man's shoulders and bore him to the ground. Captain A. Ottard, chief of police, who was in the front seat, jumped almost at the same time and in an instant the man was overpowered and disarmed.

A wild cry of "Lynch him!" went up from the crowd. Colonel Roosevelt spoke to the people and told them to spare the assassin. The man was taken into the hotel and held there until he was removed to the police station. It is believed that the assassin was delivering his address.

"I will make this speech in no, one or the other of the following places," said Henry F. Cochems, one of the Wisconsin Progressive leaders, told the great crowd which had assembled in the Auditorium that Colonel Roosevelt will be shot and asked the people to be calm.

The crowd was thrown almost into a panic by the announcement, but Colonel Roosevelt retained the people by rising and assuring them that he was not hurt badly. Then he began his address.

THE DANGER THAT WAS ESCAPED

WHAT WOULD HAVE HAPPENED IF DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILLS HAD NOT BEEN VETOED?

FACTORIES WOULD BE CLOSED

The Democratic Tariff Bills Would Have Been Experienced in Almost Every County in the United States.

Congressman R. J. Hill is one of the greatest. If not the greatest, tariff experts in the United States. He represents Fairfield County, Connecticut. His newspaper, the "Fairfield Post," published a startling document in which he shows the effect the Democratic tariff bills passed during the recent session of congress and vetoed by President Taft, would have had upon these industries if enacted into a law. He lists the factories in alphabetical order and shows in connection with each one just the percentage of production in the duty upon the article which it manufactures. The showing fills four pages of a newspaper and it has not only awakened the attention to a shuddering realization of the danger it has escaped, but it has aroused all New England to the menace of a Democratic victory.

Mr. Hill shows beyond question that if these Democratic bills had passed practically every industry in his district and in the entire state of Connecticut would have been put upon a free trade basis and a very large proportion of them would have been obliged to close their doors. Manufacturers from all over the country who have seen this exhibit are writing to Mr. Hill to thank him for making it and to tell him that they had no idea how near to extinction they had been. They had not realized the deadly menace to their industries which was hidden in the Democratic tariff bills and they had not realized the immeasurable debt they owe to President Taft for vetoing it. One correspondent from Delaware writes that Congressman Hill's exhibit had "set the state on fire" and that he hardly too strong a term to use to describe the intense interest aroused. Another article which has recently appeared and which has produced almost as startling an effect upon those to whom it was immediately addressed as that of Congressman Hill, is an editorial in the "American Sheep Breeder." This editorial calls attention to the fact that neither Colonel Roosevelt nor Professor Wilson made any reply whatever when asked what their attitude would be on the question of protection to the wool industry, while President Taft answered by wire, calling attention to his veto of the wool bill and the reasons of opinion which he gave in that veto. The editorial very properly draws the inference from the silence of the Bill Moore and Democratic candidates that the wool industry need not hope for any consideration at their hands, and it quotes the message of President Taft to show that he realizes the absolute necessity of protection in order that the industry may prosper, and that so long as he is in the White House no free wool bill can become a law.

The "American Sheep Breeder" goes to many thousands men engaged in the sheep industry and it is not in any sense a political newspaper. It is devoted to the interests of the sheep industry, however, and its executive editor's opinion that President Taft and the Republican party alone can be trusted to safeguard that industry, can hardly fail to concentrate upon the Republican ticket the vote of all those vitally interested in that industry.

The Democratic managers realize the deep-seated distrust toward their party which exists on account of its attitude on the tariff question and are trying desperately to make it appear that the tariff plank of their platform does not really mean so very much. They plead that the Democratic program would be to reduce the tariff gradually so as not to disturb business, with the idea that ultimately the country could reach a free trade basis by easy stages, while in the old story about gradually reducing the feed which is given to your horse until by dint of habit he learns to do without any feed at all.

But the country will not be deceived. The country knows perfectly well that Democratic victory would mean a long period of tariff paralysis with nothing certain except that the tariff bills would be passed under which there would inevitably be enormous importations of foreign products with corresponding contraction and stagnation of domestic trade and manufactures. The country did not fail to take note of the tariff revision bills passed by the present Democratic congress under the boast that they did not contain a line of protection. The country has seen that for the purpose of easy votes of President Taft these ruthless Democratic measures would now be on the statute books and in all probability the industries affected by them would be languishing and ready for the next step.

If the thousands of these facts that is responsible for the steady and steady drift toward Taft that is reported from all sections of the country and that is the forecast of a sweeping Republican victory.
