"Suffrage Sunday" February Ninth.

On that Day the Votes for Women League Appeals for Help to All Clergymen—Catholic and Protestant.

By order of the president, Mrs. Clara L. Darrow, the North Dakota Votes for Women League has set apart February Ninth as "Suffrage Sunday." On that day every minister and priest of every creed and denomination is urged to speak for suffrage from the pulpit, and to lay upon his congregation as an act of human justice to secure the passage of the Suffrage bill endorsed by the state Votes for Women League, now before the legislature at Bismarck. Our state must be made cleaner, safer, a better place for the growth of homes, schools, churches—all the institutions that make for righteousness. This will be done none too quickly even if we all work together, with every weapon we can command. The ballot in the hands of women is one unused tool within our reach. Heulah M. Amidon.

FOURTEEN RIDE ON ONE TICKET

Mrs. Scott Has Thirteen Children, All Under Five Years of Age.

Ellensburg, Wash., Jan. 31.—Thirteen children, all under 5 years of age, and all the children of Mrs. Frank Scott of Highland, Kan., went through Ellensburg last week on the Northern Pacific, occupying five double seats in a passenger day coach and not paying one cent of car fair, according to a story told by a passenger conductor. The children, accompanied by their mother, were enroute from the middle states to the coast, where they were to be met by their father. The names of all the thirteen children begin with "A."

The conductor in charge from Spokane to Ellensburg approached Mrs. Scott shortly after the train left the Inland Empire city and protested against the carrying of a Sunday school on one ticket.

"The rules of the company provide that a child under five years of age may ride free when accompanied by the parent with a first class ticket, don't they?" asked Mrs. Scott.

"They do, but you will have to show me," answered the conductor, whereupon Mrs. Scott dug down into her valise and brought out the family bible, in which were recorded the names and birth places of each of her children. The conductor withdrew.

The names and ages of the Scott children were: Ashbel, Archer and Austin, triplets, aged 4 1/2 years; Arthur and Arnold, 3 1/2 years; Alice, Almon and Albin, triplets, 2 1/2 years; Albert, Albion and Adolph, triplets, 18 months; and Abel and Abner, twins, 6 months old.

Is it not rather strange that the county commissioner who spent a number of hours in Almont one day this week did not come and show the ARENA in the wrong in regard to the commissioner's recent official newspaper-tax grab?

Possibly he couldn't do so and we will let it pass that way.

Tuberculosis of Fowls

The number of affected fowls received at the Veterinary division Laboratory would lead one to suspect that the disease is becoming quite prevalent in various parts of the state. Numerous cases of liver troubles which have been diagnosed by poultrymen as "going light," spotted liver, fatty liver and rheumatism; have proved to be tuberculosis.

Tuberculous fowls are usually found on premises where the disease is present or has been present in cattle or hogs, or both. The disease is caused by germs or minute vegetable organisms known as the bacterium tuberculosis. This organism is strictly parasitic, and does not find conditions favorable for growth outside of the animal body but it may live in the soil protected from sunshine for a number of years.

The disease or infection may be transmitted directly from tuberculous fowl to healthy ones, but it is undoubtedly the more frequently spread thru the foodstuffs which are obtained from the droppings of tuberculous cattle or hogs. The droppings of the diseased birds contain the germs which serve as a means of disseminating the disease thru the entire flock.

Some of the outbreaks have been brought to notice thru the finding of this disease among cattle and hogs by means of the tuberculin test.

The general appearance of the fowls received at the laboratory for diagnosis, and experimental purposes, has not been such as cause one to suspect that they were sick with tuberculosis or any other disease. In one instance one of the fowls had a very pale comb and was extremely thin, a condition which has been popularly termed "going light" by poultry raisers.

The disease develops slowly among fowls as well as in other animals, and after they are noticed to be ill, they linger for months before they die. Because of the slowness of the disease, and the lack of interest and curiosity concerning it this disease has probably been allowed to go unrecognized by a number of poultry raisers.

The chief bodily alteration arising from tuberculosis is a small, usually raised spot, varying in size and ranging from a white to a yellowish white in color. This constitutes what is known as a tubercle. The tubercle is soft at first, and of a cheese-like consistency, it becomes hard and gritty. This can be determined by cutting them with a knife.

In the chicken the liver is the chief organ selected as the point of attack. The liver becomes enlarged and covered with small spots or tubercles, which may be soft or calcified (gritty) depending upon the stage of the disease. At times the intestines may be covered with tubercles and they may also be found in the sheathlike tissue supporting the intestines. The lungs or "lights" are rarely affected.

In order to prevent the disease it becomes necessary to provide sanitary surroundings. The hen house or brooder should be well ventilated and should have plenty of sunshine. The manure should

SOIL GETS HUNGRY

Dairy Farming Gives the Ground Much Needed Food.

Of all animals kept on the farm the dairy cow is the most eminent. She is the farmer's highest trump card in building up the fertility of his soil. Many eastern dairyfarms have attempted to set the milk producing end of the business over against the crop growing end and from the unwelcome results have come the growing recognition of the fact that plants and animals—dairy cows and grain and forage crops—are economically inseparable. In its best estate the dairy farm produces the food for the cow, writes an expert. One cannot neglect the growing of forage and grain crops and find his largest return through a highly specialized dairy business.

The greatest question before the dairy farmer today is that of growing suitable food crops and its reciprocal effect upon the fertility of his farm. The great need of a wider growth of forage crops is shown by the present tendency toward the depletion of available fertility. In many cases we are growing too little and buying too much, both of feed and fertility.

Many dairymen buy tons of commercial fertilizers, not to supplement but to grieve out the home-grown supply. To buy feeds which will balance up the deficiency of protein in the home-grown supply is entirely proper, providing the right kind is purchased. Fecals like cottonseed meal, oil meal and gluten which possess a high fertilizing value are the real supplements, as they usually supply the compounds that are deficient on dairy farms.

Stable manure and the roots and stubble of the legume and grain crops turned under will liberate sufficient potassium. Phosphorus is the one element that is most likely to be deficient. It is supplied in limited quantities by stable manure but that source is inadequate. Acid phosphate mixed with manure before it is applied will make up the deficiency of this element. Its use pays handsomely on the average dairy farm.

not be allowed to accumulate in quantity. The interior of the house should be whitewashed twice a year. The drinking jars should be cleaned by boiling, and the feeding places should be cleaned regularly.

When an outbreak appears the healthy birds should be removed; if possible, into new quarters, the sick ones remaining in the old quarters. If this is not possible, then the sick fowls should be separated from the healthy ones, and the house should be thoroughly disinfected. Tuberculous chicken carcasses should not be fed to the swine as the latter may contract the disease from the carcasses. Eggs from tuberculous fowls should be considered as unsafe for food and should not be used unless thoroughly cooked. If tuberculous fowls are placed on the market they should be sold under the name of "Dr. W. L. Boyd."

THE BANKS OF CANADA

The closing of the year 1913 has brought out the usual bank statements accompanied by the addresses of the Presidents and General Managers of these institutions. Their reading is interesting as they show in a striking manner the prosperity of the country, and deal with economic matters in a first hand way. Those who know anything of Canadian banking methods know the stability of these institu- tions, and the high character of the men who are placed in charge. In discussing the hard situation the Presi- dent of the United Bank of Canada, where branches are to be found in all parts of the Canadian West, said:—

"A good deal has been said about speculation in land. The increase in land values has added enormously to the assets of Western business and has to some extent formed a basis for extended credit, but this is not felt to be a drawback when the value is real and convertible. We consider that a business standing which is strength- ened and enhanced by property hold- ings is entitled to a responsible ar- rangement of credit for legitimate busi- ness operations."

It will thus be seen that the banks recognize the certain rise in the value of farm lands in Western Canada. When the facts are known of the won- derful producing qualities of farm lands in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, it is sim- ple to understand the liberal stand taken by the banks.

Living not far from Lashburn, Sask., a farmer named Clarke who in 1913 secured a crop of Marquis Wheat yielding 70 bushels per acre. This is spoken of as a record yield, and this is doubtless true, but several cases have been brought to notice where yields almost as large have been pro- duced, and in different parts of the country. During the past year there have been reported many yields of from 25 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Oats, too, were a success- ful crop, and so was the barley crop. Wheat that would yield 45 bushels per acre would bring on the market 70c (a fair figure) per bushel, a gross return of $28.00 per acre. At low $12.00 per acre (an outside figure) there would be a balance of $16.00 per acre set profit. This figure should be compared with the fact that not less than $109.00 per acre. Very much less return than this proves satisfac- tory to those holding lands in Iowa and Illinois worth from $250 to $300 per acre.

The latest Government returns give an approximate estimate of four hun- dred thousand an immigration to Canada during 1912. Of this number 200,000 will be from the United States. Most of these are of the farming class and it is not difficult to understand why farming lands in Canada will ad- vance from 25 to twenty per cent within the next twelve months. There- fore investment in Western Canadian lands is not looked upon as being in the speculative class. Those fortunate enough to secure free homesteads in Canada will acquire the intrinsic value of the land along the best pos- sible start for a bright future. Ad- vertisement.

The Smile.
The girl who smiles too much makes as great a mistake as she who smiles too little, for though she may be only actuated by an honest desire to please, she lays herself open to the danger of insincerity. A smile can transform a plain face into loveliness, but it only does this when it is the outcome of some special emotion, and not a mere aimless parting of the lips. "Smiling to order," or on any and every occasion, is fatal to charm, and should be carefully avoided.

URGENT RETENTION OF WOOL DUTIES

MANUFACTURERS' ALMOST TO A MAN, FIGHT A REDUC- TION:

DEMOCRATS STAND FIRM.

Show No Signs During the Hearing of Changing Plans.—One Scored For Predicting Cut in Wages.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Practically all large manufacturers had a running line in the house ways and means committee Monday night when it continued at night. The wool tariff was the issue and the manufacturers presented an almost unbroken alignment, against reduction of duty on woolen cloth and ready-made goods, though favoring reduction of the duty on raw wool.

Most Strenuous Fight.
It was the most strenuous fight made at this session of congress against the Democratic plan for re- vision of the duties in the coming extra session.

"Your schedule has never been cut in the memory of living man," sug- gested Representative Palmer of Penn- sylvania, to A. M. Stanford, president of a Cleveland woolry, when the wool- carder testified that the tariff could be reduced in the event the Democ- ratic party chose to take the responsi- bility for a possible reduction of wages of the woolen mill employes.

Eight Per Cent Dividends.
The witness testified to eight per cent dividends from his mill last year. He suggested that the rate of New York suggested that it was rather an- becoming for him, in view of the big profits of the industry, to hold out a threat of wage reduction.

Through William Goldman of New York, its secretary, the National Asso- ciation of Woolriers declared that while free wool was desirable it was not revolutionary and it endorsed the proposed Democratic rate of 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool.

The National Association of Manu- facturers, comprising 900 of the wool- len mills of the country, through its president, John P. Wood, of Phila- delphia, presented a schedule of rates as a suggestive proposition, but Mr. Wood admitted that the schedule was approximately the same as the present tariff.

The committee showed no signs dur- ing the examination of changing its tentative plan for a revised woolen schedule along the line of the Democ- ratic bill of the two previous ses- sions of this congress, which provided for 20 per cent ad valorem on raw wool, and from 25 to 50 per cent on cloth, ready-made clothing and other articles.

PLAN MANY MODEL LAWS
National Civic Federation Meets to Discuss Industrial Mediation Act and Other Matters.

New York, Jan. 25.—The thirteenth annual meeting of the National Civic Federation opened here this morning at the Hotel Astor. The sessions will last two days, during which time the association will take up a number of bills which have been introduced by various committees, and which it is proposed to submit to congress or to the thirty-eight state legislatures, which are in session this winter.

The most important matter that came before the association was the report of the department of indus- trial mediation law. This report, gar- nished with the draft of two bills, one to be submitted to congress, which provides for the amendment of the Brian federal mediation act and the other to be presented to the various state legislatures in an effort to secure uniformity of the state laws relative to the mediation of industrial disputes.

Other tentative bills which were presented to the association for en- dorsement covered a wide field, the subjects of the new proposed legis- lation being: Workmen's compensa- tion, accident prevention, pension for federal, state and municipal employ- ees, reform in legal procedure, regula- tion of public utilities, regulation of industrial corporations, and regulation of the manufacture and sale of drugs and other products.

The woman's department, of which Mrs. John Hammond is chairman, will hold its annual meeting tomorrow.

DOWN TO THE BARE FACTS

Young Minister's Passion for Self-Sacrifice Had Results That Might Have Been Anticipated.

The announcement of Miss Helen Miller's proposal led one of the charity workers of New York to say: "Marriage itself will not be able to quench Miss Gault's passion for giving. Apropos to this passion, she once told me a story.

"There was a young minister, the story ran, who, being poor and having nothing else to give, used to give away his clothes.

"The young minister's district con- tained many needy men, and he would give them shoes and socks, shined and soled, gloves, overcoats and trousers.

"Yes, time and again he would give away his clothes, foolishly and reck- lessly, piece by piece, until—

"Until," she ended, "he came to himself."

Mag. Great Love.
They had already celebrated the fact that the mistletoe hung in the hall, and now they were occupying not only one but two, but also the entire drawing room.

"Could you love me, darling," he murmured, as the thought of that sprig of mistletoe came to him again, "if I possessed only one coat in the wardrobe, while you?"

She looked up into his eyes as she framed her reply.

"I could," she said, "if I knew you had sacrificed the others to buy me a new dress!"

WHITE PIMPLES ON HEAD
Ransom, Ill.—"My trouble started on one cheek when I was only about two weeks old. Started like little white pimples, looked like an old scab of blood and matter. His whole head was covered for a few months, then it went to his ear, shoulders, and his whole body. It seemed to come out thick and sticky on his head, while on the other parts of his body it was more like water coming out of the skin. He would scratch until the eruption would be all covered with blood and gradually spread. The least little bit of rub would cause the sores to bleed, sprout and itch. Never had a full night's sleep, restles all night.

"The sores were horrid to look at. It lasted until he was about two and a half years old. Then we saw an eczema advertisement in the paper to use—but it did us no good. Then we used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. We put the Cuticura Ointment on thick at bed time and put a light boot on so he could not scratch the sores. Then we washed it clean with Cuticura Soap and warm water twice a day, and he was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. E. F. Sulzberger, Dec. 30, 1911.

THE SUFFRAGE BILL.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 27.—A suffrage bill, carefully framed and endorsed by the State Votes for Women League, is up for consideration in both the Senate and the House. We want every friend of good government, every believer in fair play, to write or wire his senator and his representative at Bismarck, to support this measure. We want each one, also, to send in petitions asking the passage of this measure.

This is a matter of simple human justice. It is in line with that most remarkable political movement of the past two years, the growth of progressive sentiment in all parties. In the rising tide for more democracy, votes for women, or equal suffrage, has played a prominent part. The demand for social justice will never be met until women have a right to express at the polls their views upon child labor, hours and conditions of labor, especially for women, minimum wage laws, mother's pensions, white slavery, and every question that affects the home, and all that is sweetest and best in life.

Women are doing their share in the world's work they have the ability to cast an intelligent ballot, as is witnessed in Seattle, Los Angeles and Denver. Why should we hesitate to submit to the men of North Dakota this question? Is there a single valid reason for not doing so? Make up your minds and act without delay. Already nine states have extended its franchise to women. Our neighboring states on all sides, Montana, South Dakota and Minnesota, will doubtless act favorably on the question this winter. In fact a bill for suffrage has already passed both houses of the South Dakota legislature by an overwhelming majority, and Montana is pledged. If North Dakota delays until the next legislature she will desert her rightful position as leader, and fall back to the rear in the procession of states. Act for suffrage without delay. Write your representatives. Do it now.

Clara L. Darrow, President North Dakota Votes for Women League.

RHEUMATIC ADVICE
 Prominent Doctor's Best Description
 Easily Mixed at Home

"From your druggist get one ounce of this compound in original sealed package and one ounce of the two ingredients here and mix them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake the bottle well and take a spoonful before each meal and at bedtime. This is said to be the best and best remedy known to the medical profession for rheumatism and backache. Good results come after the first dose. If your druggist does not have the compound in stock, get it for you in a few hours from the wholesale house. Do not take a patent medicine instead of this. Instead, on having the genuine compound in the original one-ounce, sealed package, send a card to the publisher last winter. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

What They Brought.
 The teacher, after telling the Christmas story, was questioning the infant class.

"Now, who can tell me what the wise men brought to the baby Jesus?" she asked.

Six-year-old Alexander waved a chubby hand.

"I know, teacher! Gold an' Lincolns cents an' myrrh," he triumphantly exclaimed.

She Knows.
 "You never thank a man for giving you a seat in a street car." "Not any more," replied Miss Cayenne. "I used to until I noticed that almost invariably he was going to get out at the next corner anyhow."

LIFE'S STRUGGLE WITH ILLNESS

Mrs. Stewart Tells How She Suffered from 16 to 45 Years old—How Finally Cured.

Eupheria, Ohio. "Because of total ignorance of my own case, for myself when verging into womanhood and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicine was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years. "The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor and have been blessed with excellent health. I am a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-reliant cannot over-estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home but by using and using since I was 22 years old. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ANNEA STEWART, Eupheria, Ohio.

STATE BONDING

SENATOR ELLINGSON INTRODUCES BILL TO FURNISH BONDS TO OFFICERS.

TRUST GETTING THE CASH

Bill Provides That State Shall Bond Department to Bond County Officers—Because Present Rates Are Too High.

Bismarck, N. D.—Senator Ellingson of Steele county introduced a bill Tuesday afternoon to create a bonding department in connection with the state examiner's office to provide for the state bond funds to the county officers over the state. Two years ago a law was enacted compelling county officers to furnish a surety bond and holding companies taking advantage of the provision raised the rates to exorbitant figures.

Prior to that law counties that only paid a fee of $20 for a premium for their bonds were compelled to pay $200 this last year as a result of the bonding companies' greed, and there has been an enormous inflation of rates since that time.

The state treasurer has introduced the first pay of the bonds to the members on Tuesday afternoon. It is estimated that the cost of the legislature for the first twenty days has been $25,000. In part this is due to the fact that members, together with postage, printing and other expenses.

So far only one bill has become a law, Senate bill No. 41 which concerns with the written journals and makes the existing journals a permanent legislative record.

The Almont normal school matter was reviewed on Tuesday, when Senator Boyd of Almont introduced a bill appropriating $125,000 to complete the buildings and make the necessary repairs.

Senator Englund of Konroth has introduced a bill compelling telegraph companies to transmit all doctor messages to another telegraph company on whose line such points may be reached, at the discretion of the doctor where both companies maintain an office and when the rate of both companies is equal, or providing a facility of ten to $20 per cent for each station.

On Monday afternoon Governor Hanna sent a message to the legation in London. This message said: "I wish to call your attention to a resolution passed by the commission on public relations at a meeting held Jan. 25."

Moved by Mr. Nelson that the secretary of the commission be asked to advise the state what amount of money is available for the purchase of the land in the state and in view of the fact that the purchase of the land has been completed and in process of completion to about $100,000 worth of land, it is suggested that the commission be authorized to sell the attention of the state to the fact that a considerable amount of land is being ordered, the state being to reduce the expense of money, and printing and incidental cost of postage for its distribution.

I would suggest to the senate and house that a joint committee be named to confer with the governor and the commissioners of relating to see if this very large expenditure for legislative printing can be cut down. This committee is to only make a report through and if it has cost more than $10,000 for the first twenty days of the session it will be reduced to $5,000 for legislative printing by the time the session closes, which would be an average of more than $200 per day. Trusting this matter may give proper attention to the state's financial situation.

Bills introduced in the senate Monday afternoon were:

S. B. No. 142—Talcott, relating to duties of township treasurers and the method of raising funds from county treasurers.

S. B. No. 143—Talcott, providing for the sheriff for counties.

S. B. No. 144—Carter, appropriating $112,863.72 for the school of science at Bismarck.

S. B. No. 145—Nelson, appropriating $1,000 for a duck hatchery at Platte Lake.

S. B. No. 147—Nelson, appropriating $20,000 for the agricultural experiment station at Bismarck.

A unanimous resolution by Talcott was adopted Monday afternoon that the state auditor be authorized to pay the bills of the house after the adjournment will be taken Friday.

Representative Sawyer introduced a bill to declare a recess, and likewise declared those who had allowed arrested the house's recess session, considering the illness they were sent to the capital to perform. He also referred to the case reported in the minutes of one of the members on the occasion of a recent debate on the floor of the house.

Committees were appointed in both houses Monday to confer with the governor and the commission on printing relative to the great extravagance of the printing of the legislature's proceedings.

CONFEDERATE WIDOW TO AID

MRS. LONGSTREET WOULD HELP PAY ALLEGED DEBT.

Hero of Civil War Furnishes Bond and Will Not Go to Jail.

New York, Jan. 29—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate general, in the aid of her husband's Civil War foe, Daniel H. Sickles, Monday, with an offer to raise $23,476 among the "ragged and maimed followers of Lee" to pay General Sickles' alleged debt to the state of New York.

Sheriff Harburger, who arrested General Sickles in the civil suit brought by the state to recover the money, also dictated a letter to many of the richest men in New York, asking them to aid the veteran.

In a telegram sent to General Sickles from Charlottesville, Va., Mrs. Longstreet said she had telegraphed to the attorney general of the state of New York that she would raise the money among the confederate veterans, if allowed sufficient time.

The republic whose battles you fought will not permit your degradation," were her closing words to General Sickles.

The sheriff addressed his letter to J. P. Morgan, J. D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and the 450 members of the sheriff's panel, composed of wealthy New Yorkers.

Sheriff Harburger dealt gently with his prisoner instead of serving the order of arrest in the morning, he waited until General Sickles' lawyer Daniel P. Hays had arranged with a surety company for a $20,000 bond for the veteran's freedom. Mr. Hays brought it to the sheriff's office and they went to General Sickles' Fifth avenue home during the afternoon.

"Well, general," the sheriff greeted him. "It's a bit of formal business, you know I have to serve you with these papers; I'm sorry, but I have no choice."

"It's all right," General Sickles replied. "You are one of the best friends I've got, sheriff."

"They placed the bond for the general and he signed it in a flowing hand.

"That handwriting is not so bad for a man who is more than 52 years old," sheriff he commented. "It cost me $500 to get this bond."

"There was a fee of $525 owing the county for service of the papers. General Sickles' summoned Miss Edith Wilmington, his housekeeper, to pay the sum for him for a $20,000 bond. She came into the room, with her hands full of papers, tripped on a rug and scattered them over the floor. The general assisted in picking them up. When the sheriff left General Sickles shook hands with him and renewed his declaration of friendship.

STUDIES A GREAT PROBLEM

BUREAU OF SOCIAL HYGIENE IS EXPLAINED.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Tells of Its Origin, Work and Plans for the Investigation of Vice Conditions.

New York, Jan. 27.—In order that the public might better understand the Bureau of Social Hygiene John D. Rockefeller, Jr. today gave out a statement explaining the origin, work and plans of that institution. The bureau, he said, came into existence about two years ago as a result of the work of a special grand jury appointed to investigate the vice conditions in New York City. This jury recommended that a public commission be appointed to study the social evil.

Mr. Rockefeller was foreman of that grand jury and he thereafter gave the subject deep thought and conferred with a large number of leading men and women. These conferences, says Mr. Rockefeller, developed the feeling that a public commission would labor under a number of disadvantages, such as the fact that it would be short lived; that its work would not be done publicly; that it could hardly do more than present recommendations. So the resolution grew that in order to make a real and lasting improvement in conditions, a permanent organization should be created, the continuation of which would not be dependent upon a temporary wave of reform, nor upon the life of any man or group of men, but which would go on, generation after generation, continuously making warfare against the forces of evil. It also appeared that a private organization would have the most advantages, a certain freedom from publicity and from political bias, which a publicly appointed commission could not so easily avoid.

Therefore, as the initial step, in the winter of 1911 the Bureau of Social Hygiene was formed. Its present members are Miss Katherine Thompson, superintendent of the New York State Reformatory for Women at Bedford Hills, N. Y.; Paul M. Warburg, of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.; Stuart L. Macpherson, of the New York bar; and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. As the work develops new members may be added.

"One of the first things undertaken by the bureau was the establishment at Bedford Hills, adjacent to the reformatory, of a laboratory of social hygiene, under Miss Lewis' direction. In this laboratory it is proposed to study from the physical, mental, social and moral side each person committed to the reformatory. This study will be carried on by experts and each case will be kept under observation for from three weeks to three months, as may be required. When the diagnosis is completed, it is hoped that the information will be sufficient to recommend the treatment most likely to reform the individual, or, if reformation is impossible, to recommend permanent custodial care. Furthermore, reaching out beyond the individual involved, it is believed that these important contributions may be made to a fuller knowledge of the conditions ultimately responsible for vice. If this experiment is successful the principle may prove applicable to all classes of criminals and the conditions precedent to crime, and lead to lines of action not only more scientific and humane but also less wasteful than those at present followed."

That its work might be done intelligently the bureau employed George J. Kuehnelt to make a comprehensive survey of vice conditions in New York; and Abraham Flexner to study the social evil in Europe, and their reports are now being prepared. These studies will be followed by others in various American cities, and it is the hope of the bureau that, based upon all of them, may be devised a practical plan for dealing with the social evil.

In conclusion Mr. Rockefeller's statement says: "It cannot be too strongly emphasized that the spirit which dominates the work of the bureau is not sensational or sentimental or hysterical; that it is not a spirit of criticism of public officials; but that it is essentially a spirit of constructive suggestion and of deep scientific as well as humane interest in a great world problem."
