P. O. Race Interesting

Six Candidates After Local Postal Position. Party Lines Lost in the Running.

The race is on. The candidates are grooming themselves for the homestretch which looms in the immediate distance. All are looking at the goal with covetous eyes. The democrats are importuned on every corner to help along this or that candidate for the position of postmaster at Almont.

When the report of E. E. Templeton's resignation was first given to the public, one or two of those wishing to secure the office began work among their friends for endorsement. Others simply filled out applications to the examining board and keep on their ways attending to their daily work. Factions have sprung to the assistance of their friends and are diligently, if quietly working.

The chief topic for conversation is furnished by the various contenders in of the relative positions in the race. All feel confident the matter is all settled but the formalities.

The latest entrants are Christ Babr and C. A. Knutson. They are both able, well-known men of this community—the former a democrat, the latter a republican.

Dr. Henderson Here Tuesdays.

Dr. A. O. Henderson, the chiropractor, will be in Almont, every Tuesday until further notice, at the hotel. He will arrive in Almont sometime during the morning and stay all day and evening. Consultation and examination free at his room in hotel. No matter what your sickness or ailment, consult the Chiropractor. Main office Mandan. Advt.

Came from Hatton.

Miss Mae Mastrud of Hatton, North Dakota, a sister of Mrs. C. M. Smestad, arrived here last week to spend a few days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Smestad and family. The duration of Miss Mastrud's visit was not given out.

School Opens September Second.

September second school will open in this village and Mrs. G. H. Anderson will preside as teacher.

People Read Arena Ads Each Week.

As a matter of fact, if the entire six were lined up, the choice of any one of them would be satisfactory to the majority of the patrons of the post office.

Most recent reports to reach our office, state there is a dark horse in the race, who has almost according to rumor, reached the goal—in fact has received the appointment and only awaits the formal announcement and to be checked in. Who it is has not been made public.

Another report emanating from the Heart river country, states that a former publisher of the Arena is to receive the post office. This report was from patrons of the post office at Carl. No weight is given to it. Local opinion is divided as to the outcome of the contest, and until the matter is settled, the incumbent holds the office and the returns from it.

Entertaining Iowan Friends.

Mrs. E. E. Templeton has been entertaining for a few days, Misses Bessie Morton and Anna Whitmer, of Anthon, Iowa. Both are from Mrs. Templeton's home town, and availed themselves of the opportunity to visit here as they returned home from a trip to Yellowstone National Park.

Came from Streeter.

Miss Davis of Streeter, N. D., arrived in Almont Thursday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kelsen, for a few days.

Creamery Doing Well.

One of the officers of a Glen Ullin financial institution, stated that the Hess Creamery company paid to Morton county farmers for cream during July, over $13,000. As only 26 working days in July, the disbursement of this sum meant an average daily profit to the farmers of $577.

Brought Samples of Corn.

Bert Day brought to town this week some well matured corn that were picked the 16th day of August. He states his entire field is as good as the sample.

Special Request

"A Growing Industry" has met with so much favor from those interested in the development of the dairy industry as well as the general development of Morton county, that we reprint it in compliance with several requests. This desire on the part of the leading dairy-men of central Morton county to let every cream producer see what a splendid thing a creamery is for and community, is worthy of much praise, and as the readers can see for themselves the benefit to the farmer a creamery is, then why not get together and work toward opening and operating a creamery for Almont?

Home Happenings.

Mrs. Anna Compton will leave today for Dickinson to take up her work once again.

C. A. Knutson was a Mandan visitor, Thursday.

Attorney J. V. McCormick of New Salem spent some time in Almont, Friday.

Geo. H. Piercy, revenue collector, deputy U. S. Marshal Hockman, and U. S. District Attorney Edward Engerud of Fargo, were in Almont this week on business for Uncle Sam, Wednesday.

G. H. Anderson motored to Glen Ullin, Wednesday to hold court. Gustave Falk was given a hearing on a charge of having resisted a federal officer while in discharge of his duty. The prisoner was bound over to the district court.

Peter Nelson transacted business in the Twin cities this week.

Sunday was a red eye day in the village if all accounts of the debasing conduct are true. One particular offense, appearing in a semi-nude condition by a young fellow, should be prosecuted to the extent of the law. Threats of mob law are frequently heard and a repetition of Sunday's orgies means a clean-up of the whole bunch.

Heart River Ripples

Mr. and Mrs. Gil Lein were the guests of Anton Johnson of Heart, Sunday.

A. M. Johnson, wife and son Adolph were guests of M. S. Young and family of Carson, Sunday.

R. Chase of Elgin passed thru the Ripples country, Monday, on his way to Bismarck.

Anna Johnson returned home Tuesday after a week's visit to friends at Elgin.

Bert Day was seen in this section last Wednesday. Bert is proud of his field of corn this year and he has a good right to be as it is one of the best in this section.

A. M. Johnson of Rose Dale recently purchased a high grade class Gordon & Son upright piano to grace the parlor home.

Mrs. John Bonus visited friends in Carl, Thursday.

P. Jacobsen and wife of Sisseton are visiting friends in this section this week.

A Growing Industry

Is The Hess Creamery Company of Glen Ullin.—A Steady Upward Trend Given Dairying.

"What an artistic building, that is" said deputy U. S. Marshal Haggart as he stood looking at the plant of the Hess Creamery Co., "and, from all I can hear, it is one of the most up-to-date and sanitary creameries in the entire northwest, or in any part of the country."

The remarks were made by the marshal in the presence of the writer, as he was about to go into the country south of Glen Ullin, on a mission for the government.

Desiring to know more about the Hess Creamery Co. and its plant, we went to the place at the close of a busy day, when, if at any time the place would not appear so well-kept and clean as other times. Mr. Hess who was busily engaged in making ice cream, called an assistant to take his place at ice cream making, and then we began an inspection of the plant where the popular and known the States over FERNWOOD brand of butter is made. We found in every department the greatest care taken to keep the place as clean, odorless and sanitary as is possible and absolutely necessary to produce only the highest class butter as this creamery turns out. We also noted each of the employes takes a personal pride in maintaining his department so that it does not fall below the standard of any other.

This system works for the best and highest quality of the product, and it is commonly remarked among commission merchants "Fernwood Butter sells itself".

To give the reader a general idea of the course the cream takes from its receipt at the door until it is placed on the market in air-tight, paraffin paper wrapped one pound packages, it will be necessary to start at the receiving platform. As the cream is delivered, it is weighed and graded and then poured into the receiving vats. Here it is kept till enough has accumulated to begin pasteurizing the cream. The process of pasteurizing cream is so interesting that it is here given in detail. The pasteurizer is a machine about the size of a barrel containing two concentric tanks so crowded and sealed that the cream and water cannot mix. Inside the inner tank is a centrifugal fan. As the cream is pumped from the receiving vat it is heated to 160 to 170 degrees Fahrenheit. At this temperature it is forced by the fan from the pasteurizer over cooling tubes into the cooling vats where the cream is cooled to 70 by means of hollow coils & discs thru which ice cold water is pumped. The temperature is reduced still lower until 62 degrees and here it is kept as that is deemed best for ripening the cream.

At this point a slight delay will be permitted. While the previously described process has been going on of the buttermaker has prepared a culture consisting of two ounces of Lactic acid germs in one pint of milk. This culture is left standing for 24 hours until the milk coagulates thoroughly. The culture is then placed in 50 gallons of milk which has been sterilized at 212 degrees Fahrenheit. It is during this part of the work that extreme care must be taken to keep foreign substances from the milk. The culture is mixed with and aids in an even ripening of the cream thus giving the butter that uniform quality and and flavor for which Fernwood brand is noted. And to make a note of it this is the only pasteurizer used in North Dakota thereby placing the Hess Creamery ahead of all others as an up-to-date establishment.

Having gone over each step of the process, Mr. Hess called attention to the battery of churns of 400 gallons each which are run at the rate of 30 revolutions per minute. Before placing the cream in the churn the ripening cream which has stood at 62 degrees, is brought still lower until 55 degrees has been attained. Then gravity connections are opened and cream runs into the churn and here is made a 1000 pounds of butter in each churn. And such butter—golden, finely flavored, high quality butter.

Before removing the butter from the rotary combined churn and worker the buttermilk is drawn off, salt put in and the churn set in motion at 5 to 7 revolutions per minute until the butter is uniformly worked and salted. The next step shown was the cutting and wrapping the finished product. This was interesting to watch as the machine formed, and cut 75 one pound bricks of butter at one operation of the pure non-corroding aluminum stamp. So soon as the golden cubes leave the stamp they are immediately wrapped in paraffined paper put in cold storage or shipped out to fill the many advance orders for this well-known product.

The by products of this modern factory cut an important figure in course of a year's business. The chief of these are the poplar Polar Ice Cream and Hess's Celebrated Lac-Tonic Buttermilk. The Polar Ice Cream which has an extensive sale in the ice cream parlors along the main line of the N. P., is made in a wholesome sanitary way because it can not come in contact with any foreign matter from the time the ingredients are put into the non-corrosive german silver machine with a capacity of 200 gallons per hour, until it is taken from the sterilized repositories by the retail salesman as he wells comes to the customer and returning to the factory recent details have made it necessary to double the capacity of the machine. Good-Wishes From Home.

When Mr. Brown was away from home on an extensive business trip, he got a long letter from his wife. It ended thus:

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Cuticura that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Cuticura. No respectfully call the attention of father and mother when procuring Cuticura to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black.

Adage Revised.

"Children should be seen and not heard." "Especially when consuming soap."

Why, Certainly.

Miss Founders affect "cuticura." "Good heavens! Jimson! People don't affect anything. That's a disease."

To Be Expected.

"How that receiver of stolen goods was scored in court!" "Well, oughtn't a 'fence' to put up with railings?"

Aweary.

"Sue," observed the old man, "I trust you will ere long be able to choose a life partner from among the numerous young men who call upon you."

She Was Found.

Violet Jennie was a little girl who originated in a foundling asylum. A visitor who had a habit of visiting took a great fancy to V. J. This visitor had a girl of her own, whose name was Frances, and permission was asked for V. J. to take tea with Frances.

Frances was having a birthday that day. So Violet (for short) wanted to be very nice, but she felt that she had an advantage over Frances, since not every girl can be an inmate of a foundling hospital. Violet Jennie tried not to patronize Frances, but she could hardly help it.

"This is your birthday, isn't it?" she said sweetly. "So you were born?" "Yes, of course. Everybody is born."

"In your set, I suppose. That's what makes it so common to be born. I wasn't yet born—I was founded!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AN OLD NURSE

Persuaded Doctor to Drink Postum.

An old faithful nurse and an experienced doctor, are a pretty strong combination in favor of Postum, instead of tea and coffee. The doctor said: "I began to drink Postum five years ago on the advice of an old nurse."

"During an unusually busy winter, between coffee, tea and overwork, I became a victim of insomnia. In a month after beginning Postum, in place of tea and coffee, I could eat anything and sleep as soundly as a baby."

"In three months I had gained twenty pounds in weight. I now use Postum altogether instead of tea and coffee; even at bedtime with a soda cracker or some other tasty delicacy. Trying a little tendency to Diabetes, I used a small quantity of saccharine instead of sugar, to sweeten with. I may add that today tea or coffee are never present in our house and very many guests, on my advice, have adopted Postum as their regular beverage."

"In conclusion I can assure anyone that, as I re-creating, nourishing and nerve-strengthening beverage; there is nothing equal to Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Well-Being."

Postum comes in two forms. Postum (must be boiled) and Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring half a teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most purposes. It is a good thing for people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know Postum. That pleasant, relaxing beverage has never been in the future. There's a Reason for Postum.

Plea for Kitchan.

The kitchen should be the refinery, the laboratory, the factory of the home, and the pivotal point about which the activities of the home revolve. Costs should be considered thoughtfully; no scrap of food should be used again in various ways. By buying staple food supplies in large quantities from 15 to 20 per cent can be saved. Any one wishing to do so may economize in this way. Housewives must not look upon their set as mere drudgery; they must bring education, intelligence, and concentration into practice. They should learn, as manufacturers have, that the best results are to be obtained in a workshop that is well lighted, properly ventilated, and comfortably furnished with suitable and sanitary in all its equipments.—Lettie's.

THE RIGHT SOAP FOR BABY'S SKIN

In the care of baby's skin and hair, Cuticura Soap is the mother's favorite. Not only is it unrivaled in purity and refreshing fragrance, but its gentle emollient properties are quickly sufficient to allay minor irritations, remove redness, roughness and chafing, soothe sensitive conditions, and promote skin and hair health generally. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, it is most valuable in the treatment of eczema, rashes and itching, burning infantile eruptions. Cuticura Soap wears to a water, often outlasting several cakes of ordinary soap and making its use most economical.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32p. Skin Book. Address post card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

In the Natural History Class.

"Now," asked the teacher, "who can tell me what an oyster is?" Silence for a moment, while small brows were knit in strained effort at remembrance. Then little Tommy's finger muscles relaxed and eagerly he raised his hand.

"I know!" he triumphantly announced. "An oyster is a fish built like a nut."—Everybody's Magazine.

Just Her Husband.

A woman mounted the step of a car, carrying an umbrella like a reversed saber.

"The conductor touched her lightly, saying: 'Excuse me, madam, but you are likely to put out the eye of the man behind you.'"

Good Evidence.

"Are the Jorkins in good odor in society?" "About as good as most of those gasoline spenders."

Have You Seen Alapat's Fire Dept?

When the others from the fire that destroyed the Merchants hotel were still alive, there was a lot of talk about a fire department. It seems all the promises for securing fire protection—and they were made at the same time have been forgotten.

A common source of pleasure to the ladies and babies is the great walk at either end of the principal business street—the baby and the mother. It is because the baby and the mother are likely to ask that the Cuyler fund be tapped for medals.

HARRY K. THAW EVIDENCE KEEPERS ALL MATTEAWAN

WAITING AUTOMOBILES RUSH HIM AWAY DRIVEN BY REBELS COAST AND GOT ABOARD A YACHT.

REWARD OF $500 IS OFFERED FOR CAPTURE

Guard Placed Under Arrest—Rigid Investigation is Begun—Wife Feels That Husband May Carry Out Alleged Threats on Life.

BULLETIN. New York.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw has received a letter from her son, Harry K. Thaw, who escaped from Mattawan early yesterday. Thaw said he planned to "take a rest" before going to the Thaw country place, Elmhurst, at Gresson, Penn. The letter was postmarked "New York, Aug. 17, 12 p. m., Station 9." Inside on a long strip was Thaw's communication, written in pencil.

Mattawan, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Harry Kendall Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, escaped from the hospital for the criminally insane here at 7:45 o'clock Sunday morning. A dash for liberty through an open gate led into the open door of a powerful automobile that stood on the outside, and a flight like a rocket for the Connecticut state line, 30 miles away, accomplished his escape.

The hospital authorities feel certain he is outside the state. Once beyond its boundaries, Thaw is free. Only perhaps years of litigation can bring him back and then only in one event—that he be adjudged insane in the state into which he fled.

Names of Confederates. Five confederates manned the car in which Thaw escaped and a big black limousine which trailed it past the asylum gate. The police have the names under which they registered at a local hotel Friday night and are seeking them. The hospital authorities believe Thaw has fled to the shore of Long Island sound and boarded a yacht waiting, with steam up, to rush him to Europe.

A reward of $500 for Thaw's apprehension has been offered by Dr. H. F. C. Kiehl, superintendent of the asylum. Howard H. Barnum, the attendant at the gate, past whom Thaw fled in his break for freedom, is under arrest and other arrests are expected to follow in the rigid investigation begun by Dr. Kiehl.

The shades were drawn in the dormitories and the inmates were asleep when Thaw left his room. He was fully dressed. The milk man's cart was rumbling on the road outside and he walked through the store room and into the outer court yard of the grounds.

Passes—Lone Gate men. Barnum, sole attendant at the road gate, was pacing back and forth when Thaw closed the store room door behind him, and apparently did not notice his escape.

There was little out of the ordinary in his appearance, even at so early an hour, in the courtyard, and if Barnum saw him—as to this no one, save the hospital authorities, can say and they refuse to talk on the subject—questioned a six-cylinder touring car of 40 horsepower, followed by a limousine, also black, loaded lastly along the road as the milkman drove near the gate.

Thaw, standing a few feet away, apparently unconcerned, watched till Barnum reached the gate and swung it wide to let the milkman enter. At the same moment the two cars drew up on the further side of the road, opposite the gate, and stood still, their engines throbbing.

As Barnum stepped aside for the milkman to drive inside the grounds, he heard the gravel crunch beneath Thaw's feet and, looking up, saw him pass past him for one of the waiting cars. With a shout, Barnum started in pursuit, but a flying leap landed Thaw safe within the car. The shades were suddenly burning, but the car was throwing up a cloud of dust before he had gone to the gate.

Keeper Thouts the Alarm. "Thaw's gone! Escaped!" he shouted, bursting into Dr. Kiehl's presence, and in a moment the hunt was on.

The great black car flashed like lightning through Stormville, 10 miles east of Mattawan, along the road to the Connecticut line. Early risers in the little hamlet saw three men—and Thaw—crouching low to escape the sweep of their rush through the air. They were going 10 miles an hour. They were 10 minutes out of Mattawan. At the speed which the black car traveled through Stormville Thaw should have reached the state line within half an hour.

The New York state hospital for the criminal insane at Mattawan accused Thaw not as a murderer, but as an insane person. The jury which sent him there acquitted him of the murder of Stanford White on the same grounds as caused his incarceration in the hospital for the criminal insane—that of insanity. Hence he could not be taken back to New York on the murder charge. He could not, therefore, be arrested in the hospital for extradition, the hospital authorities assert, as he is charged with no crime.

Within a moment he was at the telephone and, as Barnum poured the story into his ears, repeated it over the wire to police headquarters. Mattaw was became the center of a wondrous ripple of telephone and telegraph alarms as Dr. Kiehl planned pursuit. He might as well have tried to chase a 12-gauge shell. The ten-minute start, the high power of the car in which Thaw made his flight, the nervousness of the Connecticut state line toward which Thaw was heading, and the inferior power of the pursuing cars militated against him and made the chase hopeless. Five minutes' ride away he was in the hands of the police.

Alarm Spread Broadcast. Within a moment he was at the telephone and, as Barnum poured the story into his ears, repeated it over the wire to police headquarters. Mattaw was became the center of a wondrous ripple of telephone and telegraph alarms as Dr. Kiehl planned pursuit.

A rigid investigation inclined Dr. Kiehl to the belief that Thaw planned flight on a yacht in Long Island sound and that he reached the yacht by way of relay of automobiles, stationed along the road to three pursuers off the trail.

Wife Closely Guarded. New York.—Uniformed policemen guard every entrance to the hotel where Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is staying.

Always fearful of her husband, she showed her terror to a marked degree on Wednesday that he was at Jargh. Her mother, Mrs. Charles J. Holman, was frightened even more than she and urged Mrs. Thaw to go into seclusion until Thaw is found.

"I suppose I'll have to kill you next," Mrs. Thaw said, "and I believe my presence in New York prompted him to escape. Four years ago he told me: 'I suppose I'll have to kill you next.'"

"The state of New York has a great deal to answer for in this case. What Harry Thaw has been allowed to do at Mattawan is an outrage to think of. He is a murderer and a keeper of the peace for New York."

"I suppose I'll have to kill you next," Mrs. Thaw said, "and I believe my presence in New York prompted him to escape. Four years ago he told me: 'I suppose I'll have to kill you next.'"

"One thing is certain: Harry won't stay in hiding long. He'll be heard from soon. A few drinks make him a brave, big man and when that happens he'll be right in front of you."

"I suppose I'll have to kill you next," Mrs. Thaw said, "and I believe my presence in New York prompted him to escape. Four years ago he told me: 'I suppose I'll have to kill you next.'"

AMERICAN CHARGE GIVEN PASSPORTS

UNOFFICIALLY REPORTED THAT U. S. REPRESENTATIVE QUITS-MEXICO.

PRES. HUERTA IS DEFIANT

Demands Recognition and Rejects President Wilson's Peace Plans—Sovereign of All Relations Seems at Hand.

LATEST BULLETIN.

Washington.—The reports of an ultimatum by Huerta demanding recognition and intimations that he might hand Charge O'Doughnessy and William Bayard Hale their passports are now denied in official dispatches from the Mexican embassy, while their authenticity is discussed in Mexico City.

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—The United States government has been given until midnight by President Huerta to recognize Mexico, it is officially stated. The government is not specific in the public announcement as to what course then will be pursued, but it is understood that it means the severing of all relations between the two countries.

Urrutia Makes Announcement. Senator Urrutia, minister of the interior, who on previous occasions has been the spokesman for the administration, was the person chosen to make the announcement.

Senator Urrutia refused to give out the text of the correspondence between Mr. Lind and the Mexican government, but confirmed the fact of an exchange of notes had taken place. Two notes from Mexico have been forwarded to Washington. The first was a reply to that mailed by Mr. Lind. This note included the demand for recognition of the Huerta government.

One of two courses. One official, in discussing this latter note, said that Mexico had reached the point where she either must bow her head in submission before the United States or adopt an attitude of defiance. The first contingency, he added, was regarded as impossible.

Provisional President Huerta, replying to President Wilson's note which was recently delivered to the Mexican government through former Governor John Lind, refuses mediation in the Mexican situation or any similar suggestion made by a foreign government. Mr. Lind has forwarded General Huerta's answer to Washington and is waiting for a reply.

President Huerta, in his reply, told the United States that he would tolerate no interference even though that interference might be characterized as friendly mediation. The character of the reply to Washington to President Huerta's note will determine the next action in the international drama.

Passports for O'Doughnessy. Washington.—Secretary to the President Tumulty, returning to the White House from Secretary Bryan's home this morning, stated that unofficially satisfactory replies had been received concerning the Huerta ultimatum, and that Charge d'Affaires O'Doughnessy had been given his passport.

President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counselor John Bassett Moore, of the state department, discussed for nearly two hours the dispatches of John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, describing the attitude of the Huerta officials.

Instead of the American communication appealing for a suspension of hostilities and a constitutional plebiscite, the United States under no circumstance could the United States recognize the Huerta regime because it was set up by irregular forces instead of by constitutional order, will be the public today.

War Not Favored.

No sentiment exists in this country to justify intervention or a war, they said, and no foreign government could count on the support of the United States in the event of a general financial emergency to adjust an international situation which the United States is not bound to maintain.

JAILS ARE CLOSELY GUARDED

REGULAR POLICE AND 100 SPECIAL OFFICERS ON DUTY.

Authorities Determined to Prosecute Offenders, Refuse Settlement—Rain Halts Meeting Plans.

Minot.—The announced determination of Minot citizens to end the riotous conditions brought about near by a week ago by the Industrial Workers has evidenced itself and, as a result, the city has been comparatively quiet.

A terrific rainstorm, the second in a week, fell about the time that it is supposed the Industrial Workers had planned a street meeting and though the rain was of but short duration, no attempt was made after the storm to begin the scheduled trouble.

Every police officer in the city, together with more than 100 special officers, are guarding the jails and the temperer penitentiary constructed Wednesday to house the overflow of prisoners, and will resort to firearms if an attempt at jail delivery is made.

Rumors that leaders of the Industrial Workers had made proposals to the authorities for a peaceable settlement of the trouble could not be confirmed. Officials stated that every offender would be punished according to the law.

Mounted police toured the so-called "jungle" camps, ordering nearly 100 "boaters" to leave town.

PRIME CORN CROP WEATHER

Handicap of the Early Part of the Season More Than Overcome.

Fargo.—North Dakota's corn crop has advanced rapidly the past three weeks. The weather has been of the torrid variety, with plenty of moisture and corn has fairly jumped.

For many weeks the crop was regarded as late because of the cool weather the earlier part of the season, but recent conditions have been such that the growth has been unusually rapid and the crop is now as well advanced as usual at this date.

The seed used last spring was superior to that the year before and the crop promises to be of a higher quality and more value for both feeding and commercial purposes.

Because of the widespread construction of silos in the state the growth of corn has become more general. In some localities the grain needed corn is being put into silos, but it will be two or three weeks before the work becomes general.

The warm weather, in addition to hastening the growth of the corn, has rapidly ripened late grain and greatly enlarged the crop. Potatoes planted early are practically ready to dig.

CYCLONE HITS N. D. TOWNS

Douglas and Plaza, Visited By Terrible Storm, Reported Much Damage.

Bismarck.—At just about six o'clock Thursday evening a most terrific wind storm in the nature of a cyclone struck the town of Douglas on the Plaza branch of the Soo line out of Bismarck, and a great portion of the town was demolished. A great deal of damage to crops is also reported in that vicinity. One or two people were injured, but it is said there were no fatalities.

The main line of the railroad track west of the depot was blocked with buildings. All telephones and telegraph wires are down and it is impossible to ascertain what damage has been done to other towns in that section.

State's Attorney Resigns.

Dickinson.—THOMAS W. MURPHY has resigned as state's attorney of this county, and James P. Cain has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Murphy felt that his private practice was worth more to him than the office.

N. D. POSITION IS STRONG

May Have Little Use for Outside Money in Handling the State's Crops.

Grand Forks.—North Dakota banks are in excellent condition to handle the state's crops this fall, and A. I. Hunter, cashier of the First National Bank of Grand Forks, declared he did not believe it would be necessary for the banks to call for outside money.

"The statements of the banks just issued are very favorable," said Mr. Hunter. "They show deposits that are practically as large as those shown under the June 4 call, and this condition is very unusual."

"During the summer months and particularly at this period of the year, there has always been a great decline in deposits, due to the amount of money required in handling farming operations. With the money that is available from the United States treasury, and which it may be necessary to use, North Dakota banks are certainly in splendid condition. All of the statements that I have examined bear out the belief that we will be able to handle the crop without difficulty."

There has been no call on the United States treasury yet from this state for a part of the money that has been promised for crop-handling purposes. Hunter believes it may not be necessary to ask for any of it.

The situation in the state generally is reflected by the statements of the Grand Forks banks. They show more than a half million dollars in cash on an average, and the gain being from $2,799,642 to $3,380,550, or $580,908.

AFTER RAILWAY CONFERENCE

Fargo Club Believes Differences Can Be Adjusted Outside the Courts.

Fargo.—Seeking an amicable agreement with the railroads rather than a long drawn out legal battle, the Fargo Commercial club hopes to arrange a conference between representatives of the roads and the commercial bodies of the state.

It is contended there are some direct criticisms which are so pronounced that the roads would have no show before the interstate commerce commission, and the local club officials believe a conference could bring about an adjustment of some of these without recourse to formal complaints to the state railway commission or the interstate commerce commission.

There is a difference of between 10 and 40 per cent on freight between Moorhead and Fargo, on opposite sides of the Red river. It is thought these matters can easily be adjusted in a conference, and that the road would voluntarily make a reduction for Fargo to correspond to the Moorhead rate.

HEADLIGHTS ON BINDERS

Farmers Use Auto Headlights to Harvest Grain at Night.

Grand Forks.—With the extreme heat work is practically prohibited in the grain fields during the greater part of the daytime. Red River valley farmers transferred their automobile headlights to their binders and harvesting operations were conducted until long into the night. One Grand Forks automobile supply house reported the sale of five searchlight outfits to farmers, who said they intended to attach them to their binders.

The hot wave exacted a heavy toll of farm property in the eastern part of the state. Reports from near Valley City indicate that nearly 100 animals have perished in the fields near there. By adopting the automobile lamp innovation, farmers have been enabled to keep well up with the work, many of them working until long after midnight. Harvesting operations in this state are pretty well finished.

I. W. W. IMITATE MILITANTS

Minot Prisoners Go On Hunger Strike and Refuse Bean Sandwiches.

Minot.—The forty prisoners in the bull pen arrested in the I. W. W. outbreaks on the streets of Minot are imitating the militant suggestions of the I. W. W. and, having started a hunger strike, it began when the authorities offered them bean sandwiches and coffee, and they have since been refusing to eat the same. The prisoners have been plastering them in the face with beans and soiling their clothes. The prisoners were allowed when the officers drew their sticks and threatened to club them.

Town Would Change Name.

Mandan.—An effort will be made to secure a change in the name of the town known as Gwyther and Fort Rice, south of here. The postoffice is known as Fort Rice, while the railroad station is known as Gwyther. A great deal of confusion is resulting. The movement under way is for the purpose of having the place known as Fort Rice on all maps.

STEAMER SINKS; 32 DROWN

"STATE OF CALIFORNIA" GOES DOWN OFF ALASKAN COAST.

Boat Drops From Sight in Three Minutes—Many Passengers Are Rescued.

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 26.—Twenty-five passengers and seven members of the crew of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer, State of California, perished at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, in Cambier bay, 90 miles south of Juneau, when the vessel struck an uncharted rock and sank in three minutes, with many passengers imprisoned in their state rooms.

The steamer left Seattle last Wednesday night for Skagway, and way points. Travel to the North is unusually heavy on account of the stampede to the Shushanna gold field. The pursuer lost all of his records and it is not possible to give a complete list of the missing. The uninjured survivors were taken to Seattle on the steamer Jefferson. They will arrive there Thursday.

A great hole was torn in the bottom of the State of California. The vessel and cargo, and mail and express, are a total loss. The ship was valued at $400,000. A number of bodies are for use on the Shushanna trail were also lost.

The steamship Jefferson of the Alaska steamship lines, southbound, heard the wireless call of the sinking steamer and turned back to rescue the survivors, who had taken to small boats and small rafts.

But Few Names Known.

Following is a list of those whose bodies have been recovered: Mrs. R. Birdbaum, Miss Stella Reardon, Mrs. Clara Vandersticht, Miss Lily Wade, daughter of Edward C. Ward, assistant manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship company; Mrs. Nellie B. Ward, mother of Miss Ward. Four unidentified women.

Following is a partial list of the missing, who are believed to have perished: Miss Anne L. Cassidy, Miss W. A. Dyer, Miss Blanche Fridl, Miss E. Harlan, Leslie H. H. B. manager of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's office in San Francisco; J. Holman, Miss Alice Johnson, Lillian B. Norman, Miss Pitts, Miss Reardon, Mrs. C. E. Spittill and child, Ben A. Wade, Miss Wilson.

FIGHT TO SEAT GEORGIAN

Senator Considering Whether Clayton's Appointment Complies With Law.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The fight to seat Henry D. Clayton as senator from Alabama has begun in earnest. A statement by Senator Robinson of Arizona, upholding Governor O'Neal's action in appointing a successor to the late Senator Johnston, became public early in the day, and at the close of the senate's session Senator Bankhead of Alabama asked permission for the purpose of printing the legal opinions upon which the governor bases his action. Senator Bankhead said Mr. Clayton's credentials would be presented to the senate later.

The contest centers around the interpretation of the concluding words of the new amendment to the constitution, providing that the appointment shall not be construed as to effect the election or term of any senator, chosen before it became a valid part of the constitution.

Missing. "Calla himself an old sea dog, eh?" "Yes, but nobody has ever been able to locate his bark."

So Like the Summer Girl. "What kind of an engagement ring would you prefer, darling?"

"Well, they generally give me—I mean—oh, I am so confused—there is such perfect taste, Harry, that I leave it all to you."

"Look." Tight Fit. "Look" twittered the new man, "Isn't this just a lovely waistcoat? I made it myself out of one of her old-hobble skirts. Ain't I saving?"

And the other new man gazed at the garment in voluble admiration.

The Tender Skin of Children is very sensitive to heat. Use Tyree's Antislip Powder for all summer skin affections. It quickly affords the little sufferer relief. See at druggists or sample sent free by J. B. Tyree, Chemist, Washington, D. C.—Adv.

Also for the Nose. Pru—And when Percy proposed—do was quite beside himself. I'll wager.

Phyllis—I don't remember, but it was it was the first time during the courtship.

Such a Foolish Question. "My wife lost her purse with $15 in it today," said a sad-looking man.

"What you going to town or coming home?" inquired a sympathizer.

"Didn't I say it had some money in it?" answered the sad-looking man, and every one knew when she lost it.

Lives of great men are abroad in the land. That the book-agent is abroad in the land.

He Meant Leonard. Leonard W. Smith, a plumber's supply dealer in Fresno, last Thursday evening telling his wife he would be delayed returning. About one o'clock yesterday morning a man entered the house. Mrs. Smith thought it was her husband, but when she got no answer to her call she left her bed to investigate.

"What are you doing here?" she demanded. "Oh, go to sleep—Jim Charley," was the answer.

And then "Charley" fled with $10 worth of silverware.—New York American.

Constant Menace to Public Health. The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis estimates that there are over a million consumptives in the United States, of whom probably at least one-third are unable to provide for themselves the necessary treatment of home. Most of these cases are a menace to the health of their families and associates, and should be provided for in some of the present time hospitals and sanatoriums.

Every case were known, it would not be possible to provide accommodations for more than one in eight or ten—two-thirds of the cases are in the hands of the poor. These are better hospital and sanatorium provision.

Post Toasties for Lunch. Appetizing and wholesome. No cooking—no hot kitchen. Ready to eat direct from the package—fresh, crisp and dainty. Serve with cream and sugar—and sometimes fresh berries or fruit. Post Toasties are thin bits of Indian corn, toasted to a golden brown. Acceptable at any meal. A Growing Industry.
 While there the writer went into the subject matter during the time the refrigerating machine was not in action, and found the thermometer was close to the zero mark. When the machine, which is a new type installed by the Creamery Packaging Co., Chicago, is running only an hour or two a day is necessary to keep the temperature near the zero mark.
 A few remarks about the proprietor, Mr. William N. Hess and the employees who are making Glen Ullin known as the "Hign of the northwest," are in order at this time.
 Mr. Hess owner of the plant has had many years experience as a buttermaker and creameryman. In his work when he started many years ago with one cow and a hand churn, he kept in his mind this one word "Quality", and as time passed he found his quality butter was a means of bringing about the realization of his boy- and manhood's most worthy ambition, the fine plant and equipment located on a slight eminence in the south part of the progressive city of Glen Ul-lin, North Dakota.
 The buttermaker, Mr. Henry C.
 Schulte, a thoro, clean, aggressive business man, is a graduate of the School of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota. He has entire charge of the work in the production department, and has by his attention to detail earned an enviable reputation among the creamerymen of the northwest. One instance, happening while on his vacation which he spent in the west, will suffice. While calling on a dealer who takes a carload of Fernwood brand butter every ten days, and who deals with seventeen creameries, the statement was made that "Butter from the Hess Creamery Co. was the best". An examination of June butter was made in December, showed it to be as sweet and fresh as when it was shipped, and the western buyers importuned Mr. Schulte for more butter than the factory turns out.
 The engineer and mechanical expert, Mr. S. C. Anderson, is also one of the important cogs in this modern industrial institution, for a great deal depends upon the condition of the machinery in turning out a perfect product.
 The office is well equipped to expeditiously take care of the large amount of clerical work required to audit the daily reports of a number of cream buying stations through the western part of the state.
 And when the fact becomes generally known that the Hess Creamery Co. daily pays Morton county farmers over $300, the people of Glen Ullin—yes, of Morton county should be proud that such a large and successful institution exists within its borders. Advt
