CENTRALIZERS BENEFICIAL.

THEY PROVIDE A READY MARKET FOR CREAM PRODUCERS.

What chance would countrymen have to dispose of their dairy produce in sections where there are no creameries, if it were not for the numerous centralizing plants in the twin cities and other points tributary to cream producing states?

No chance whatever, but much is said in the farm press about this matter. Many homilies are given condensing the practice of shipping cream to centralizers. Many of the local creameries are throwing epithets at the great companies for drawing heavily upon the territory from which the local concerns wish to receive tribute.

Creameries in towns and communities where enough persons can be secured to supply cream are splendid things. In many places throughout the states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, creameries have been established, tried out, the profit which should have accrued to the farmers selling cream, has been eaten up in the expense of management. In other places the abandoned plants stand idle and rotting to the ground.

"All the fault of the centralizers" speak up the thoughtless ones. The investigator says, "It is not the fault of the centralizer, by any means."

Let us reason why it is the fault of the centralizers.

First, the small number of cows in the neighborhood of the creamery, compels the butter-maker to pay a low price for the cream or in simple plain English, the creamery man wants the producer to reverse all laws of business—sell in the lowest market and buy in the highest. The producer believes he is not being treated justly or in a right manner. He is compelled to take a lower price for his cream at the local creamery than by shipping and be satisfied with being told that "Local patriotism should be enough to make him sacrifice part of his profit."

He receives more for his cream. The can is shipped back the same day, clean and ready for use. He also receives his money as fast as the U. S. Mails can carry it to him instead of semi-monthly or monthly settlements. This settlement is very satisfactory. He realizes the purchasing power of his cream has increased a dollar or two a can, over what he received at home. This increase in money value is net profit. He is entitled to it. He is in business for profit. He wants all that his cows produce. By shipping he has been able to get results.

Second; in many places there are no creameries within many miles. The railroad station is hands and the centralizing company has made it easy for him to ship his cream. Without this facility he would probably use a portion of the cream for home consumption and the balance allowed to waste, thus bringing in no profit to the farmer. He is benefited greatly by having a chance to dispose of his cream profitably and feels that the centralizing concern is a friend.

The big plant in a distant city has facilities to handle and quickly dispose of great quantities of cream and butter. They take a small profit from each can and turn the balance to the farmer as made for his work. Every effort is made by these concerns to stimulate production and increase the quality of the product.

In territory where there are creameries the centralizers and the creameries generally have an understanding as to the price to be paid for cream. This does not run to the harm of the local institution—rather it runs in favor of it as a differential of three cents is usually made the basis on which to buy.

Count the average shipper stands at the receiving room of the large twin city concern and watch the unloading of the after cars of cream cans. He would marvel at the great things being done to enhance the value of the dairy cow and assist the cream producer. He would realize that it is thru the great shipping tremendous business alone, (the great supply of cream coming from places he never knew existed,) that enables the centralizing plants to continue in business and pay a high price for cream. He would realize that here is brought together daily many thousands of dollars worth of cream, the money for which is distributed over an immense territory. He would also realize that by systematic work and the utilization of the largest and most modern machinery, the cost of handling this cream and butter is reduced to a minimum. He will see that this saving in plant maintenance is more than enough to offset the freight and buyer's commission, so that the producer of cream receives more than he would if selling to some local institution that is trying to operate with less than 1000 cows.

Where the country is sparsely settled, where the spirit of co-operation has not been developed sufficiently, and where the people do not possess large quantities of "Local Patriotism" enough to forego a part of their dairy profits, the greatest benefit to the farmer and the ever-ready relief from financial stringency is the CENTRALIZING CREAMERY which daily sends its checks to the farmers in payment for cream.

Super-Optimism. "Optimists are all right, provided they are not unreasoning and excessive," said Norman Haggood, the Boston leader, at a fusion luncheon in New York.

"The optimism of our opponents," he went on, "reminds me of Smith. A druggist said to Smith one night at the lodge: 'There's a movement on foot to make drugs cheaper.' 'Good,' said Smith. 'Good! That will bring sickness within the reach of all.'"

Wild Honey. The honey that comes out of a bee tree is not always as sweet as the old-time compliment, "sweet as a bee tree," might lead one to suppose. The bees that run wild do not seem to have the fine taste in nectar that their domesticated cousins have.

Logical Conclusion. A little girl was walking along the street with her brother, when she saw a one-armed man. It was the first time in her life that she had ever seen a man without an arm, and she wanted to know all about it.

But occasionally it is easier to bear it than it is to grin. SPEAKS FOR ITSELF. Experience of a Southern Man. "Please allow me to thank the originator of Postum, which in my case, speaks for itself," writes a Fla. man.

KIND DEEDS.

A little thinking shows us that the deeds of kindness we do are effective in proportion to the love we put into them. More depends upon the motive than upon the gift. If the thought be selfish, if we expect compensation or are guilty of close calculation, the result will be like the attitude of mind which inspired it.

DESPAIR.

Despair is not only cowardly, but it is absolutely useless. Despair is a mood which requires the lack of five qualities—courage, love, integrity, fortitude and intelligence—if it is to continue in possession. Any one of these five qualities can conquer despair, and, though there are circumstances in which the fight will be sharp at first, the victory is sure.

The Lytleton Ghost.

The story of the Lytleton ghost is one of the best of English family legends. Thomas Lord Lytleton dreamed one night that a hivel flow into his room, which changed into a woman in white, and bade him prepare to die. "I hope not soon," he said, "not in two months." "Yes, in three days," replied the specter.

He told of the dream at breakfast next morning (Thursday, Nov. 25, 1770). On Saturday he was in excellent health, and thought he would "talk the ghost." A few minutes before midnight on that day, just as he was undressing, he fell back dead—'Till Mait (tozette).

After an all-day discussion of the number of regional banks to be created to administer the proposed new system the committee adjourned without taking a vote on a single proposition.

Important changes in the administration currency bill resulted from the first executive work on the measure by the senate committee. The committee moved over for later action the proposition to substitute a central government controlled bank for the regional bank plan in the bill, on which the members were evenly divided and proceeded to perfect the details of the measure.

U. S. TELLS HUERTA HE MUST RESIGN

PRESIDENT WILSON SENDS ULTIMATUM TO MEXICAN DICTATOR

ANSWER IS MADE AS YET

Diplomatic Corps is Called to Palace at Mexico City, But News is Withheld.

BRYAN DENIES THE REPORT. Washington, Nov. 5.—Secretary Bryan, when interviewed, gave out a statement denying that any ultimatum had been sent to President Huerta. He said: "No ultimatum has been sent to Mexico and it is unfortunate that the press should give credence to such a report. The harm done by speculation or even inaccuracies with regard to domestic questions is limited because the people are acquainted with the subject and can make allowances; but as misstatements with regard to international matters may lead to serious consequences, I feel justified in making the above denials."

The secretary would not say whether any other kind of notice was submitted.

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—President Huerta last been told he must resign the presidency of Mexico, without loss of time and that he must not leave as his successor General Huerta, nor any other member of his official family. President Wilson sent the message.

The ultimatum from Washington was conveyed to President Huerta through his private secretary, Senor Habaco by Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, acting under instructions from the state department.

Ultimatum Not Answered. Senor Habaco presented the ultimatum to his chief last Sunday, but up to now President Huerta has returned no answer and, as far as can be learned, has guarded its contents from almost all his official and intimate confidants.

Those who learned of the Washington attitude in regard to General Huerta's position say he will be forced to give one of two answers: refusal point-blank to comply with the demand, possibly so far as to hand the diplomatic representative his papers or the elimination of himself officially.

How Huerta Will Act. Those most intimate with the president think that the latter course will not be taken for many reasons, chief among which is that such action would be tantamount to submission to the rebels. Official Mexico is no longer in doubt that the Washington administration favors the rebel cause and is convinced that this is the means adopted by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to assist Carranza to win.

General Huerta has summoned to the national capital the diplomatic corps, but for what purpose was not revealed. Three of the ministers, those of Germany, Norway and Russia, were absent. They have been in Vera Cruz where they were in consultation with President Wilson's envoy, John Lind, who is understood to be fully conversant with the latest reports from Washington.

The Military Situation. Changes in the military situation throughout the country included, according to the report, the advance of the rebels to attack Zacatecas, but the government believes that the garrison there is sufficiently strong to resist an attack successfully. Queretaro, capital of the state of the same name, was the main line of the National railway; south of San Luis Potosi, is surrounded by rebels, and practically in a state of siege. North of San Luis Potosi a new army has been organized to fight the rebels to prevent the operation of trains. Picardes addressed to railroad employees have been posted notifying them they will be hanged if they attempt to run the trains. A general strike of the men is refusing to take part in the strike.

Washington is Reticent. "Washington—a well defined report was current in official circles to the effect that the United States had communicated a new note to the Honorable government, its views concerning the necessity of Huerta's retirement from the provisional presidency. The Honorable government, however, denied the report and Secretary Bryan was equally reticent. The administration is endeavoring to work out its plans in the quietest manner possible. It is understood that the government is in a position to make a move in any direction it may take to complete the situation.

Clark (retired), who commanded the battleship Oregon on her famous dash from the Pacific to the Atlantic, around Cape Horn, during the Spanish-American war in 1898, has accepted the invitation of the secretary of the navy to command the old battleship when she passes through the Panama canal early in 1915.

MAKES POISONS HARMLESS

MAY BE TAKEN BY ACCIDENT WITH IMPUNITY.

India Rubber Composition Withstands Action of Acids of the Stomach, Inventor Proves.

New York, Nov. 4.—Timothy Gilbert I. Stradole, a chemist, had swallowed a poisonous tablet to prove the form of capsule he had invented was "fool-proof," was the statement made by Dr. Charles Pabst, in whose office at 336 Franklin avenue, Brooklyn, the remarkable experiment was made. He wanted a tablet that would be harmless if swallowed by accident.

Stradole and Dr. Pabst made many experiments in trying to discover a substance for covering the poison that would be insoluble in the acids of the stomach. Last Wednesday Stradole announced to Dr. Pabst he had discovered a combination of india rubber and other substances that would make such capsules harmless to the stomach. Only by tearing off the covering could any one get the poison inside.

To prove his claims, Stradole swallowed one of his capsules last Sunday in Dr. Pabst's office, with Dr. J. W. Nugent as a witness. Dr. Pabst announced that the chemical experienced no ill effects. Not an atom of the poison entered his system.

Dr. Pabst said that the formula for the manufacture of the covering would be given to the world.

THREATEN TO INDICT SULZER

Former Governor Says He is Ready for Attack of Enemies.

New York, Nov. 4.—Political opponents of William Sulzer, deposed governor, threaten to have the former executive indicted.

State Senator James D. McCallister, who said a charge would be placed before the district attorney of Albany county this week relating to the testimony of Dunce W. Peck, state superintendent of public buildings, before the House committee, before the House committee. Peck said, under oath that Sulzer asked him to "forget" a campaign contribution and "hold him in" to the investigators.

Sulzer, when informed of the threatened proceeding, said: "I wish they would take such action. It would then afford me an opportunity to go on the stand and testify to some things that were not brought out by the impeachment proceedings."

CONGRESS COLONY ABOUT DEPLETED

NATIONAL LEGISLATORS ARE AT HOME FOR THE COMING ELECTIONS.

MONEY BILL IN SENATE SOON

Measure Likely to Go Before Upper House by Next Monday—Some Predictions in Contests of Country.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Elections in many parts of the nation this week has depleted the legislative colony in the capital for a few days. Even the banking and currency committee will not meet until Wednesday.

Started Leaving Sunday. The members of congress called away from the capital by elections at home began leaving Sunday, and until Wednesday hardly a handful of legislators will be in Washington. The house will not meet until Wednesday and the senate has adjourned until Thursday.

The administration supporters in the banking and currency committee are hopeful that the committee will be able to agree upon a report by the end of this week. The president has expressed the opinion that the currency bill should be in the senate by next Monday and an effort will be made to fulfill his expectations.

Mitchell Picked to Win. New York.—"I have no intention of retiring," said Charles F. Murphy, big chief of Tammany hall, adding: "We will win in this city by 150,000 majority."

"We will win by 150,000," asserted Robert Adamson, campaign manager for John Farroy Mitchell, fusion candidate for mayor.

With these two predictions offsetting each other, the odds in the Wall Street betting ring favor Mitchell.

John A. Hennessy, graft investigator of the deposed governor, will visit Sulzer and a leader in the fusion campaign, expected to continue till the twelfth hour his bitter assaults on Murphy, McCall and the Democratic organization.

Many Meetings Held. Honesty spoke at many meetings during the afternoon and evening. Sulzer made a tour in the fusion bid to his two-fold purpose of blighting the aspirations of leaders in his removal from office and of insuring his own election to the assembly on the Progressive ticket from the Sixth district.

Upon this election victory rests control of New York City, its officeholders and its vast expenditures amounting into hundreds of millions of dollars and his thousands of contracts yet to be awarded for the many city improvements planned and in contemplation. Chief among these are contracts for building portions of the $300,000,000 subway.

Senate Tops is Maryland Prize. Baltimore, Md.—Maryland is selected as the United States senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Isidor Rayner, a state comptroller clerk of the court of appeals and members of the legislature. In the Third congressional district there is an exceptional situation for a successor to the late Representative George Kuntz.

The issues are local, although the temperance question was injected into the campaign for the United States senatorship by the Anti-Saloon league, which is opposing State Senator Blair Lee, the Democratic nominee, on the ground that Lee helped defeat the state-wide local option bill in the last legislature.

8,000,000 Acres is Involved. St. Paul.—That the state of Minnesota has violated the conditions under which 8,000,000 acres of swamp land have been patented to the state by the federal government is the complaint made to Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior. The complaint is signed by President C. M. King and Secretary W. R. Mearns of the Northern Minnesota Development association. They ask Secretary Lane to refrain from patenting an additional 600,000 acres of swamp land to the state until he has made an investigation.

TOO FEW SPECIAL SUNDAYS

Move to Secure Co-Operation of Churches in Effort at Social Betterment.

In a report on social Sundays suggested to be observed by all of the churches in the United States, the social committee which typified the subject says:

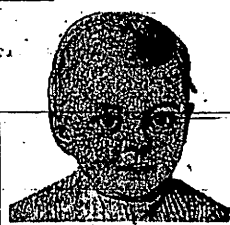

"One of the results of this investigation was the revelation that the number of special social Sundays now being observed annually is only 10. It is suggested that 15 special Sundays be designated by the calendar and are at present observed on any considerable scale throughout the country. These are United Labor Sunday, Mother's day, Peace Sunday, Labor Sunday, Prison Sunday and Tuberculosis day. The other special Sundays in the calendar given above are all fitted by certain national or religious holidays, such as Washington's Birthday, Memorial day, Christmas. The report of the committee will be submitted to the Federal Council of Churches, representing most of the Protestant denominations, to the Roman Catholic church authorities, to the Jewish church authorities and to all other church organizations which can be interested in this movement. The aim of the report is to secure the co-operation of all the churches of the country in movements for social betterment.

An Optometrist. Sammy was not prone to exert himself in the classroom, explains Lippincott's Magazine; consequently his mother was both surprised and delighted when he came home one noon with the announcement, "I got one hundred this morning." "That's lovely, Sammy," exclaimed his proud mother. "What was it in?" "Entry in reading and Bly in 'rith metric,'" was Sammy's prompt reply.

What So Precious As a Healthy Baby?

Every Youngster Can Have Fine Digestion if Given a Good Baby Laxative.

In spite of the greatest personal care and the most intelligent attention to diet, babies and children will become constipated, and it is a fact that constipation and indigestion have wrecked many a young life. To start with a good digestive apparatus is to start life without handicap.

Howard Rouse. last April, but he was sick with bowel trouble from birth and suffered intensely. Since Mrs. Rouse has been giving him Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin all this trouble has disappeared and the boy is becoming robust.

But, as we cannot all have perfect working bowels, we must do the next best thing and acquire them, or train them to become healthy. This can be done by the use of a laxative-tonic very highly recommended by a great many mothers. The remedy is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and has been on the market for two generations. It can be bought conveniently at any drugstore for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, and those who are already convinced of its merits buy the dollar size.

Thousands can testify to its merits in constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sick headaches, etc., among them reliable people like Mrs. James P. Rouse, of Marinette, Wis. Her little son Howard was fifteen months old

Its mildness makes it the ideal medicine for children, and it is also very pleasant to the taste. It is sure in its effect, and genuinely harmless. Very little of it is required and its frequent use does not cause it to lose its effect, as is the case with so many other remedies. Families wishing to try a free sample bottle should enclose it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 208 Washington St., Montreille, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

"CASCARETS" FOR LIVER, BOWELS

No sick headache, biliousness, bad taste or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Are you keeping your bowels, liver, and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage every few days with Bala, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters? Stop having a bowel wash-day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

Sure Thing. And who, I repeat ask, is the coming man? shouted the orator. "The bill collector," yelled a voice to the rear of the hall.

STOP THAT BACKACHE

There's nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. You are lame when you awake. Pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to rest and next day it's the same old story.

AN EPOCH IN STATE TAXATION

Way Found to Reach Corporations

Supreme Tribunal Settles Question on Case From Massachusetts - Opinion Delivered.

Washington, Nov. 3. After years of rain or shine by state authorities to tax business corporations doing business within their borders, Massachusetts has solved the problem. The supreme court sustained as constitutional the Massachusetts foreign corporation tax law of 1906. Chief Justice White and Justice Van Devanter and Pitney dissenting.

No dissenting opinion was delivered. The dissenting members of the court are said to have held the case to be virtually identical with the Western Union and Pullman cases from Kansas, wherein a Kansas tax on foreign corporations was held unconstitutional a few years ago.

Treatie Gules Way, Cars Fall. - Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—A 40-foot train of a wooden trestle over the Pamunkey river on the great division of the Southern railway collapsed under the weight of a combination freight and passenger train, the engine, tender and three box cars dropping into 30 feet of water. R. S. Wood of Richmond, supervisor of roadway, was killed, and the engineer and two firemen were injured.
